ONE OF THE MOST REMARKABLE STREAKS IN COLLEGIATE SPORTS REACHES A MAJOR MILESTONE TONIGHT AS NEBRASKA CELEBRATES ITS 300TH CONSECUTIVE SELLOUT AT MEMORIAL STADIUM. THE NCAA-RECORD STREAK BEGAN ON NOV. 3, 1962, WHEN BOB DEVANEY'S FIRST NU TEAM TOOK ON THE MISSOURI TIGERS. DURING THE 48 YEARS OF CONSECUTIVE SELLOUTS, MORE THAN 22 MILLION FANS HAVE ATTENDED A GAME AT MEMORIAL STADIUM.

2009 CORNHUSKER FOOTBALL GAME DAY

Welcome to Consecutive Sellout No. 300

I want to take a moment to welcome you to an important piece of history tonight at Memorial Stadium – our 300th consecutive sellout crowd, an ongoing NCAA record.

I also want to thank our fans across Nebraska, this country and around the world for being the greatest fans in college athletics. We appreciate your loyalty and decided to honor you in a unique way that ties directly with our history.

Tonight, for the first time, Nebraska will wear throwback jerseys, pants and helmets, which are replicas of the uniforms worn during the 1962 season – Bob Devaney's first year as our head coach.

Bob's arrival set a new direction for this program. He brought a talented and motivated coaching staff with him from Wyoming and took a team that had experienced disappointment in the prior 15 years to a 9-2 record and Nebraska's first bowl win ever in his first year as head coach.

It's no coincidence that our first sellout in this 300-game streak also came in Bob's first season.

Seating capacity then was only 31,000, but it was full in the fifth home game of that season, and we've been sold out ever since.

Bob built this football program into one of the nation's very best, winning back-to-back national championships in 1970 and 1971. I was privileged and honored to succeed him as head coach in 1973 and will always be grateful for the opportunities he created.

Tonight, we honor the children of the late Bob and Phyllis Devaney – their daughter, Pat, and their son, Mike. This throwback day is in Bob's honor, his family's honor and in honor of you, our loyal fans. It's also dedicated to all of the coaches, players and support personnel who took this program to new heights in 1962.

Forty-seven years later, we are all still the benefactors of the foundation they helped build.

Thank You and Best Wishes,

Tom Osborne

Homecoming King and Queen Announced Tonight

Tonight marks the 99th Homecoming game in the history of Nebraska football. At halftime of tonight's game, the 2009 Homecoming King and Queen will be announced in an on-field ceremony. Fans can learn more about each of the 10 men and women competing for the honor of King and Queen by reading each student's brief biography on the opposite page. In honor of the 300th consecutive sellout at Memorial Stadium, the theme for Homecoming 2009 is "Game on!"

The field competing for the honor of Homecoming King and Queen includes some of the brightest and most involved students on campus. Although no Husker football player is among the finalists this season, former Husker volleyball player Amanda Gates is a finalist for Homecoming Queen. Former wingback Troy Hassebroek was named Homecoming King in 2002, marking the only time an NU player has been named King since the inception of voting in 1975.

The announcement of the Homecoming King and Queen caps a week-long Homecoming celebration on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln campus. Fraternities and sororities around campus have been celebrating Homecoming all week long and are most famous for their Homecoming "floats" which are proudly displayed on the lawn in front of each house.

Homecoming festivities are sponsored by the Association of Students of the University of Nebraska (ASUN), the governing body for UNL students. ASUN serves as the representative voice for UNL students. The organization works by gathering input from all students, advocating student concerns to administration, and providing student services, ultimately working to improve the campus and enhance student life.

Homecoming Sponsors

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln and the Association of Students of the University of Nebraska would like to thank the following Homecoming sponsors: Nebraska Athletic Department, Pepsi, The Office of the Chancellor, Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, ASUN, Nebraska Alumni Association, Interfraternity Council, Panhellenic, University Program Council, Residence Hall Association, Scarlet Guard and KFRX Radio - 106.3.

HUSKERS CELEBRATE 300TH SELLOUT ON HOMECOMING

By Nebraska Media Relations

After dropping a disappointing one-point decision at 13th-ranked Virginia Tech last Saturday that snapped what was one the nation's eighth-longest winning streaks, the Nebraska football team returns to the field tonight on Homecoming looking to start a new streak while also celebrating the 300th consecutive sellout at Memorial Stadium.

The Huskers have won five straight home games and have been victorious on Homecoming in 42 of the 47 seasons during the sellout streak, dating back to 1962. NU has scored at least 24 points in 21 of its last 23 Homecoming games and the Huskers hope that trend continues after Nebraska was held without a touchdown last Saturday for the first time since 2007.

Like Nebraska, Louisiana-Lafayette also traveled to a ranked opponent for its first road game of the season last Saturday. And like the Huskers, the Ragin' Cajuns did not score a touchdown while suffering their first loss of the season, falling 31-3 at No. 9 LSU. ULL may have a hard time finding the end zone again tonight, as the Husker defense has allowed only one touchdown in two home games this season, while limiting opponents to 6.0 points per game inside Memorial Stadium.

Speaking of the 87-year old stadium, tonight's game will have several special features to celebrate the ongoing NCAA record 300th consecutive sellout. Nebraska will be wearing throwback uniforms tonight, created by adidas to be replicas of the uniforms the Huskers wore during the 1962 season, when the sellout streak began. Special video features about the streak will play on the HuskerVision screens throughout the game and players from the 1962 team and family members of former Head Coach Bob Devaney will be recognized on the field. Following the game, a fan tribute will be played on the HuskerVision screens before a fireworks show caps the festivities.

The Huskers are also looking for plenty of fireworks on the field after a frustrating game at Virginia Tech. NU had five scoring drives and drove inside the red zone five times, while the Hokies had only three scoring drives and made just two trips inside the Huskers' 20-yard line. A return home may help the Huskers find the end zone, as NU has scored 12 touchdowns at Memorial Stadium this season and allowed only one.

Henery Has 'Special' Day

Junior Alex Henery made a big impact for the Huskers' special teams units at 13th-ranked Virginia Tech last Saturday. Henery accounted for all 15 Husker points, drilling five field goals in five attempts. Henery connected on four first-half field goals from 40 yards, 27 yards, 19 yards and 38 yards. In the second half, Henery added another 38-yard field goal that put NU on top by five with less than five minutes to play. That field goal put Henery in exclusive company, as he became only the second kicker in Husker history to make five field goals in a game. The only other member of that club is Dale Klein, who booted an NCAA-record seven field goals against Missouri in 1985.

With the perfect 5-of-5 effort, Henery extended his impressive streak to 19 consecutive field goals made from less than 50 yards. In his career, Henery has made 32 of his 36 career attempts for a school-record 89-percent success rate. With 15 points against the Hokies, Henery moved up from No. 16 to No. 11 on the Nebraska all-time career scoring chart, just two points shy of entering the top 10.

As if Henery's place-kicking performance wasn't enough, he also showed off his leg during his punting duties. In his first punt attempt of the game, Henery rolled to his right and eluded a defender before unleashing a 76-yard punt that ranks as the fourth-longest in Husker history.

Suh Sets School Record

Senior Ndamukong Suh had an outstanding performance last Saturday at No. 13 Virginia Tech. Suh finished with a team-high eight tackles, including half of a sack and one tackle for loss. But his most impressive statistic came in another category, as Suh batted down four Tyrod Taylor passes. The four pass breakups set a Nebraska record for most breakups in a game by a defensive lineman.

In addition to breaking that nine-year old record, Suh also moved into the NU top 10 in career tackles-for-loss.

Suh has recorded 38 TFLs in his career to rank eighth in Husker history. With 14.0 career sacks, Suh finds himself needing just 1.5 sacks to enter the top 10.

Alex Henery became only the second kicker in Husker history to make five field goals in a game last Saturday at No. 13 Virginia Tech.

Helu Sets Career High

Junior H-back Roy Helu Jr. nearly carried Nebraska to a road victory over 13th-ranked Virginia Tech last Saturday, as he ran for a career-high 169 yards, averaging 6.0 yards per carry on his career-high 28 attempts.

Helu has posted some impressive road rushing totals over the past two seasons. In five road games since the beginning of 2008, Helu has rushed for 511 yards, an average of more than 100 yards per game, despite making only one start and receiving 10 or fewer carries in two of those five games. Helu amassed his 511 yards on only 73 carries, averaging 7.0 yards per carry.

Helu has been even more impressive in road games against ranked teams. In three road games against top-15 opponents since 2008, Helu has ran for 373 yards.

Guarding the Goal Line

Despite allowing two touchdowns last weekend, the Nebraska defense has surrendered only three touchdowns through three games this season. The Blackshirts did not allow a touchdown until the second quarter of the second game, as the Huskers held their opponents out of the end zone for the first five quarters of the year, the longest season-opening streak since 1994.

Even more impressive is that only one of the three opponent touchdown drives has covered more than 35 yards. The first touchdown the Blackshirts allowed this season required Arkansas State to drive only 32 yards to find the end zone. Against Virginia Tech last Saturday, the Hokies' first TD drive covered only 24 yards as a 76-yard opening kickoff return gave Virginia Tech a short field. The lone long touchdown drive was the Hokies' game-winning 88-yard scoring march - fueled by an 81-yard pass - with 21 seconds to play.

The Huskers did an excellent job of limiting the length of the every Hokie drive last Saturday as Virginia Tech was held to fewer than 30 yards in 11 of its 13 drives last weekend, including six drives where the Hokies managed two yards or less.

So far on the season, Nebraska has allowed only 28 points, as the Huskers' average of 9.3 points per game ranks seventh nationally. Nebraska has now held three straight opponents under 20 points for the first time since the opening three games of the 2005 season. NU has not held four consecutive opponents to fewer than 20 points since a streak of five games to open the 2003 season.

Fourth Quarter Figures

Virginia Tech outscored Nebraska 6-3 in the fourth quarter last Saturday, with the Hokies' late touchdown providing the winning margin in the come-from-behind victory. Virginia Tech became the first team to outscore Nebraska in the fourth quarter in 14 games - since the third game of last season - as the Huskers ranked second nationally a year ago in both fourth-quarter points scored and point differential. The touchdown also marked the first time in four games dating back to 2008 that NU had allowed a fourth-quarter touchdown.

The Hokies' comeback win marked the first time Nebraska has lost a game when leading in the fourth quarter under Head Coach Bo Pelini. Pelini had been 10-0 when leading at any point in the fourth quarter (including his 2003 Alamo Bowl victory as interim head coach). The Huskers had won 10 straight games when leading in the fourth quarter dating back to a 28-25 loss a 17th-ranked Texas in 2007. The last time Nebraska gave up a game-winning touchdown with less than a minute to play was on Homecoming in 2005, when No. 15 Texas Tech scored the game-winning touchdown with 12 seconds remaining.

Huskers on Homecoming

Tonight marks Nebraska's first Homecoming game against a non-conference opponent since 1954, when the Huskers fell to Pittsburgh, 21-7. In fact, only 10 of the Huskers' 98 all-time Homecoming games have come against non-conference opponents. NU has a record of 3-6-1 against non-conference Homecoming opponents, while overall, the Huskers are an impressive 72-22-4 in Homecoming games.

Nebraska won 36 straight Homecoming games from 1969 to 2004. Since then, the Huskers have lost three of their last four Homecoming games. During the sellout streak, NU has won 42 of its 47 Homecoming contests.

Game Information

Tonight's game marks the monumental 300th consecutive sellout at Memorial Stadium. The ongoing NCAA record began on Nov. 3, 1962 on Homecoming against Missouri. Nearly 47 years later, we celebrate sellout No. 300 at another Homecoming game.

With both the 300th consecutive sellout and Homecoming being celebrated tonight, there are a lot of special events happening inside the stadium.

In honor of the 300th consecutive sellout, the Huskers will be wearing throwback uniforms produced by adidas to resemble the uniforms worn in the first sellout in 1962. Fans can bid on these authentic game-worn throwback jerseys on Huskers.com until Oct. 7. Members of the 1962 team, as well as family members of former Head Coach Bob Devaney will be recognized at tonight's game and a fireworks show and fan tribute video will take place after the game.

In honor of Homecoming, the royalty candidates will be introduced at halftime with the Homecoming King and Queen announced at that time.

Former Husker volleyball coach Terry Pettit will also be recognized this evening as a recipient of the Dr. Barbara Hibner Trailblazer Award. Pettit helped build the Husker volleyball program into a national powerhouse, winning one national title while compiling a 694-149-11 record in 23 seasons.

The 1962 Homecoming game between Nebraska and Missouri was a memorable meeting, even though the Tigers prevailed 16-7. That contest marked the start of Nebraska's ongoing NCAA-record consecutive home sellout streak, which reaches 300 tonight. The first sellout also marked the first loss of Head Coach Bob Devaney's NU coaching career.

Marking the 300th Sellout

When Nebraska hosted Missouri on Homecoming on Nov. 7, 1962, for the first of the 300 consecutive home sellouts we celebrate tonight, John F. Kennedy was the President of the United States, a movie ticket cost $0.50 and The Beverly Hillbillies was the nation's top-rated TV show.

A lot has changed since then and to show you just how impressive the longevity of the sellout streak has been, let's examine some interesting facts:

»Total attendance during the sellout streak has been 22,127,996 (not including tonight).

»There have been 10 U.S. Presidents during the sellout streak, including five who served more than one term.

»Nebraska has compiled a 260-39 record at Memorial Stadium during the sellout streak.

»The Huskers have faced teams from 35 different states during the streak.

»The nation's second-longest current sellout streak (Notre Dame, 207 straight sellouts) began in 1974, 12 years after the Huskers' streak.

»Since the streak began, the Husker football program has awarded 2,985 varsity letters.

As for the game itself, both Nebraska and Louisiana-Lafayette are 2-1 this season after suffering their first losses of the year last Saturday. The Huskers fell by one point, 16-15, at No. 13 Virginia Tech last weekend, while the Ragin' Cajuns fell at No. 9 LSU, 31-3 in their first road game of the season. One of ULL's two victories this season came over Big 12 foe Kansas State, while the other was against Southern.

The Huskers and Ragin' Cajuns are meeting for the first time ever tonight. ULL is the third Sun Belt Conference school Nebraska is facing for the first time this season. The Huskers defeated Florida Atlantic and Arkansas State earlier this month and NU is 8-0 all-time against current members of the Sun Belt, with each win coming at Memorial Stadium.

Husker Head Coach Bo Pelini is in his second year at Nebraska in 2009 and owns a 12-5 career record. Louisiana-Lafayette Head Coach Rickey Bustle is in his eighth season in charge of the Ragin' Cajuns' program and has compiled a 34-51 record at ULL.

Tonight's game is being televised by Fox Sports Net on a pay-per-view basis. A condensed version of the game will likely be available next week on Fox Sports Net (check local listings).

Tonight's game is also being carried by the Husker Sports Network. Fans in and around Memorial Stadium can get all the pregame news, live game action and postgame coverage here in Lincoln on 1400 AM KLIN.

The 2009 Nebraska roster features players from 20 states, including 70 players from the Cornhusker state. Entering today's game, the 2009 Huskers have combined to start 320 career games at Nebraska. Offensively, the roster has combined for 110 starts, with senior Jacob Hickman leading the way with 26 career starts. The Blackshirts have combined for 160 starts, led by 27 career starts from senior Ndamukong Suh.

HUSKER HISTORY: LOOKING BACK AT SELLOUT NO. 1

As Nebraska celebrates its NCAA record 300th consecutive sellout tonight, we look back at the game that started it all, sellout No. 1 on Nov. 3, 1962. The game was Homecoming and featured the Huskers, under the direction of first-year Head Coach Bob Devaney, against the Missouri Tigers.

The Huskers entered the game with high hopes as Devaney had led the squad to a 6-0 start to the season, including a 3-0 mark in Big Eight play. While Nebraska had momentum entering the contest, history was not on the Huskers' side. Missouri had won the last five meetings and NU had been shut out four straight times by the Tigers.

Missouri struck first, as Johnny Roland scored with 1:06 left in the first quarter on a 46-yard reverse. Nebraska finally ended its scoreless streak against Missouri when Noel Martin intercepted a pass and returned it 88 yards for a touchdown to even the score at 7-7 heading into halftime. Although the Huskers held the Tigers to only 36 yards rushing in the second half, Missouri took the lead for good on a 45-yard field goal in the third quarter. The Tigers added a one-yard touchdown run 34 seconds into the fourth quarter to wrap up their 16-7 victory in front of 36,501 fans.

The Huskers were plagued by turnovers in the loss, as quarterback Dennis Claridge threw four interceptions and lost one fumble. The Husker offense crossed midfield but came up empty all four times.

NU rebounded from its first loss of the year by defeating Kansas, 40-16, the following week and then shutting out Oklahoma State 14-0 two weeks later. The Huskers ended the regular season with a 34-6 loss at 10th-ranked Oklahoma in the regular-season finale with a Big Eight title and a bid in the Orange Bowl at stake. NU finished the season with a 36-34 victory over Miami in the Gotham Bowl at Yankee Stadium.

Missouri - 16 Nebraska - 7

Nov. 3, 1962 - Lincoln, Neb.
Memorial Stadium - 36,501
Consecutive Sellout No. 1

Despite the loss to Missouri, the real story was the start of the streak we celebrate today. After drawing more than 36,000 fans for the Homecoming showdown with the Tigers, 34,329 came out to the home finale against Oklahoma State. The Huskers would draw just under 35,000 for the 1963 home opener but drew at least 35,000 fans from that game forward.

Memorial Stadium's capacity expanded to 44,829 in 1964 and moved up to 50,807 in 1965, 62,644 in 1966 and 64,170 in 1967. The Huskers' first home crowd to top 70,000 was the 1972 home opener against Texas A&M (sellout No. 54) when Memorial Stadium's capacity expanded to 73,650. The first crowd above 80,000 in Memorial Stadium history would not come for 34 more years until Nebraska defeated Louisiana Tech 49-10 on Sept. 2, 2006 (sellout No. 276).

Overall, the most attended game in Memorial Stadium history came last September, when 85,831 were on hand for the Huskers battle with the Virginia Tech Hokies (sellout No. 293).

This Date in Husker History - Sept. 26

The Huskers are 9-2-1 all-time on Sept. 26, including a 6-0-0 mark at Memorial Stadium. Memorable wins on this date include a 35-28 win at No. 12 Arizona State in 1987 and a 55-7 home win over ninth-ranked Washington in 1998 in the last game the Huskers played on Sept. 26. The losses came at Iowa (27-0 in 1942) and No. 3 Penn State (30-24 in 1981), while the tie came at Illinois in 1953 (21-21). Overall, Nebraska has played 191 all-time games in the month of September, compiling a 148-37-6 record, good for a .792 winning percentage. Nebraska has gone undefeated in the month 42 times.

The Use of Intoxicating Liquors: Use of alcohol is prohibited in the stadium. Event staff and police officers have been instructed to refuse admission to ticket holders who are intoxicated.

Smoking: Smoking is NOT permitted in Memorial Stadium. Passout checks or stamps are available from gate attendants for those who wish to exit to smoke and re-enter the stadium. BOTH the ticket stub and passout check are required for re-admission.

Improperly Parked Vehicles: Or those found parked in a restricted area (driveways, No Parking Zones, grassy areas, etc.) will be towed away at the expense of the owner. Towed cars may be claimed by contacting the UNL Police Office, 300 North 17th Street.

First Aid Information: First Aid Stations are located in the Northwest concourse and in the Southeast corner of the stadium. They are managed by a Cardiac Care Team and Red Cross volunteers. Persons suffering sudden illness or injury should report to the closest usher, Red Cross volunteer, or police officer to guide or escort you. Companions of (or persons nearby) fans losing consciousness, or otherwise not ambulatory, should summon the nearest usher, Red Cross volunteer or police officer. They will procure medical help at once.

Husker Nation Pavilion: The Husker Nation Pavilion is located on the Ed Weir Track and Nebraska Soccer Field just outside of the northeast corner of Memorial Stadium. It opens three hours before kickoff of every home game and is free fun for the whole family. Fans can enter from either the south or west side of Ed Weir Track. Typical game-day activities at the Pavilion include a live band, kids zone, food vendors, athletic team autograph sessions and much more. Husker fans can also listen to the Husker Sports Network pregame radio broadcast, as Greg Sharpe, Adrian Fiala, Matt Davison and Lane Grindle broadcast live from the Pavilion before each game.

BREAKING DOWN THE RAGIN' CAJUNS

presented by

Despite a 31-3 loss at ninth-ranked LSU last Saturday, Louisiana-Lafayette has proven to be a tough opponent for BCS Conference schools over the past two seasons. The Ragin' Cajuns defeated Big 12 foe Kansas State, 17-15, on Sept. 12 and last season, ULL lost by only three points at 24th-ranked Illinois and by just eight at Kansas State.

Louisiana-Lafayette is led by its defense, as the Ragin' Cajuns have allowed fewer than 20 points in two of their three games. Offensively, ULL erupted for 42 points in its season opener, but the offense has managed just 20 points over its last two games. The Ragin' Cajuns are averaging 364 yards of total offense per game, including nearly 140 rushing yards. Through the air, ULL and Kentucky are the only Football Bowl Subdivision teams that have not allowed a sack this season. Louisiana-Lafayette is throwing for an average of 224.3 yards per game.

Defensively, ULL has been solid, allowing only 362.3 yards per game. But the Ragin'

Cajuns have lacked pressure, as they are averaging just 0.3 sacks per game and only 3.3 tackles-for-loss per contest. Those totals have Louisiana-Lafayette ranked next-to-last in the country in sacks and 111th out of 120 FBS teams in tackles-for-loss.

ULL opened its season with a 42-19 home win over Southern before using a late 48-yard field goal to get past Kansas State, 17-15, the following week. Last Saturday, the Ragin' Cajuns suffered their first loss of the season, falling at No. 9 LSU, 31-3. LSU only outgained Louisiana-Lafayette 330-272, but ULL committed three turnovers. Only one of LSU's five scoring drives covered more than 60 yards.

Series History

Nebraska and Louisiana-Lafayette will be meeting for the first time tonight. In fact, each of the Huskers' three non-conference games at Memorial Stadium this season come against first-time Sun Belt opponents. Nebraska opened the season on Sept. 5 with a 49-3 victory over Florida Atlantic and the Huskers defeated Arkansas State, 38-9, the following week.

Louisiana-Lafayette Head Coach Rickey Bustle

Rickey Bustle is in his eighth season as a head coach, with all eight seasons coming on the Louisiana-Lafayette sideline. He owns a career record of 34-51, but Bustle has guided the Ragin' Cajuns to six wins - and bowl eligibility - in three of the last four seasons.

Bustle made an immediate impact at ULL. In his first five seasons from 2002 to 2006, Bustle posted 23 victories after the program had won only nine games in the five years prior to his arrival. He led the Ragin' Cajuns to their first winning record in a decade in 2005, and the 12 games Louisiana-Lafayette won in 2005 and 2006 marked the program's most victories in a two-year span since 1994-95.

Before taking over at Louisiana-Lafayette, Bustle spent seven seasons as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Virginia Tech. During his time with the Hokies, Bustle was on the sidelines for the 1996 Orange Bowl, when the Huskers defeated Virginia Tech, 42-20, in between national championship seasons for NU.

Overall, Bustle spent all but one season at Virginia Tech from 1987 to 2001 with the exception of the 1994 season when he served a one-year stint as the offensive coordinator at South Carolina.

SENIOR FEATURE: WES CAMMACK

5-11 | 200 | WR
DeWitt, NEB.

Wes Cammack is a senior wide receiver for the Huskers. In his fifth year in the program, Cammack has seen action in 27 of Nebraska's 28 games over the past three seasons. Originally a walk-on, Cammack earned a scholarship this fall. A two-time first-team academic All-Big 12 selection, Cammack carries a 3.888 GPA in agricultural engineering. Cammack was born on Sept. 24, 1986.

QUICK HITTERS

Off field talents?

I'm pretty good at Guitar Hero.

Favorite pre-game meal?

Beef loin.

Favorite Lincoln restaurant?

Texas Roadhouse

Favorite place to eat in DeWitt?

Well there's only one. It's called R.J.'s.

Last movie you saw in a theater?

Gamer...it wasn't very good.

Favorite NFL team?

I don't really have one but I like the Minnesota Vikings because I went to a game there as a kid.

Favorite sport other than football?

Definitely basketball. I miss shooting the rock.

By Nate Pohlen, Nebraska Media Relations

A standout on Nebraska's special teams, Wes Cammack has made only one career reception, but the biggest reception of his career might have come off the field this fall. Cammack was one of six native Nebraskan walk-ons placed on scholarship by Head Coach Bo Pelini during the Huskers' fall camp.

And it came at a perfect time for Cammack, whose four-year Regents' Scholarship expired before the fall semester started.

"I couldn't ask for a better experience than having that work out for me, carrying over after my academic one," Cammack said. "It was definitely a big plus."

Of course, Cammack didn't come to the practice field every day hoping to earn a scholarship. And that's probably why he received one.

"It was always a goal, but you can't control that really," Cammack said. "You can only control your work ethic."

Cammack learned his work ethic from helping his father on the farm in his hometown of DeWitt, Neb. He said helping his father since age six or seven has given him the mentality that he brings to the field every day.

"I have a lot of respect for my mom and dad and the hard work they've put in throughout my life," said Cammack, whose favorite past time in DeWitt is bow-hunting.

A standout three-sport athlete at Tri County High School, Cammack turned down offers from small colleges to play football or basketball because he knew all along that he wanted to attend a big university for academic reasons. Of course, playing for the Huskers was always a dream in the back of his mind as well.

"Definitely. You listen to the games and watch the games on TV growing up," Cammack said. "It's every Huskers' dream as a kid."

However, Cammack found that balancing school and football was more work than he could have imagined.

"Showing up, I didn't know what to expect and how much time and work you have to put in," Cammack said. "You kind of put your social life on the back burner. You go to practice, class and do homework."

The two-time first-team academic All-Big 12 selection is on track to earn his degree in agricultural engineering in May of 2010 and carries a 3.888 cumulative grade-point average. And in 2008, he was one of Nebraska's leading special teams tacklers.

But Cammack isn't concerned with his statistics. Right now, he's focused on maintaining his work ethic and building a special memory in his final season at Nebraska.

"I'll definitely remember the friendships I've made with the guys on the team that I've met along the way who I'll probably talk to for the rest of my life," Cammack said. "That's why I'm coming out here every day playing for the guy next to me."

COACHES' TAKE: JOHN PAPUCHIS

"Wes is one of those players that does everything you ask him to do. He's a true team player. When he has his opportunities, he has always contributed."

SENIOR FEATURE: NDAMUKONG SUH

By Hilary Winter, Nebraska Media Relations

Where do you find motivation when you're one of the most dominant forces in the Big 12 and are being considered for numerous honors and awards while earning your way into Nebraska's record books? The answer is simple for senior Ndamukong Suh - you look to the past.

The Portland, Ore., native and anchor on the Huskers' defensive line has spent time dissecting the play of past Huskers, learning more about the history and prestige that comes with playing football at Nebraska.

"I've always known Nebraska was a winning program, and I've always wanted to be a part of a winning program," Suh said. "I wanted to look back at the history and just see how things were."

When Suh arrived in Lincoln as a freshman he knew very little about the Blackshirt tradition and Nebraska defenses of years past. The success he's seen previous players have has inspired him. If he can witness them attain goals of making it to the next level, he can envision himself doing the same.

"Almost everybody who has been a Blackshirt has had some opportunity to play at the next level," he said. "If I can live up to that, that's helped me within my goals."

Not only has Suh spent time watching past Husker greats, he has had the opportunity to meet one-on-one with many of the players he has observed and begun to look up to. When former Husker All-American Jared Tomich came back for a visit with the team, Suh took advantage of the situation and spent time with him looking at film and talking about how to play the game.

With the help of Director of Outreach Doak Ostergard, Suh was able to spend some time recently with former Husker and NFL veteran Mike Minter. Beyond his play on the football field, Suh got insight into what made Minter a great leader, from how he approached everything on and off the field, to how he dealt with the media, to his work with multiple foundations.

"I really clinged to him," Suh said. "I talked to him before the first game and got a little advice about how he went about things."

When looking at a player like Minter and the life he leads, Suh has begun to realize the scope of the impact one person can have. As Minter works with numerous foundations and multiple companies, Suh has seen just how far a life beyond football can reach. Beyond that, he appreciates the time players like Minter take to help current Huskers. With their words of advice and guidance, young men like Suh can learn first-hand just what it means to be a part of the Nebraska football family and the realization of reaching goals outside of football.

"I never felt like I was a person who took things for granted," Suh said. "But (talking to former players) makes you humble that much more and makes you want to work that much more to get to the level they are at. I see my success as helping my family and my future family. It's not only about me."

Someday Suh will be in the place of former players like Tomich and Minter, giving advice to future Huskers about how to succeed in life and take advantage of their time in college. He has certainly learned his lessons since he arrived in Lincoln. From starting out as a defensive end and switching positions, to learning how to manage his time between school and football, Suh is already a wiser person than he was a few short years ago.

"I would say be open and willing to try anything," he said. "Many people don't know that I started as a D-End when I got here. I've learned to adjust to being a defensive tackle. As far as school goes, I'd say get involved with all of the community outreach and leadership programs that are available to us."

When he looks back at his time at Nebraska, beyond the late-night studying, tiring practices and the need to lead a balanced life between academics and athletics, one thing sticks out among all the rest.

"The experiences I've had with my teammates stand out the most," he said. "I've been able to meet so many people; it's all the different faces I've come into contact with, even the coaches."

Suh's goals have stemmed from his desire to reach the next level and play professional football. However, through his experiences in college and the guidance of important mentors in his life, he has learned so much more. From a young freshman to a mature senior ready to embark on the next phase of his life, Suh certainly has his priorities in line and his goals set for what will make him an even better person in the future.

6-4 | 300 | DT
PORTLAND, ORE.

The Big 12 Preseason Defensive Player of the Year, Ndamukong Suh is a candidate for the Lombardi and Nagurski Awards and the Outland and Lott Trophies. In 2008, Suh became the first defensive lineman to lead NU in tackles since 1973. A construction management major set to graduate in December, Suh was born on Jan. 6, 1987. In the Ngema tribe in Cameroon, where his father is from, Ndamukong means "House of Spears."

QUICK HITTERS

What do you know now that you wish you knew as a freshman?

Football-wise, I wish I knew how to play with my hands better. School-wise, I wish I didn't procrastinate as much.

Something people might now know about you?

I'm a teddy bear.

Favorite movie?

Inside Man.

Favorite class?

Construction 305. I enjoyed that class even though it was hard. We took a project for part of the community center that is by the Beadle Center and we had to propose a renovation. We worked on the mechanical stuff and they were actually going to use one of our proposals.

Item you can't live without?

Juice.

COACHES' TAKE: CARL PELINI

"He's a quiet leader; he leads by example and practices hard every day. He's a very talented player, and the guys learn by watching him. He's not a real vocal guy, he's not going to scream and yell, but I don't expect that from him. He's important to the team as a leader and he's important to the team as a guy who is just so talented that offenses really have to take into consideration where he is."

300TH SELLOUT POSTER MADE POSSIBLE BY REGIERS

By Chris Anderson, Associate Athletic Director for Communications

Willis and Fran Regier are pretty much like any other Husker football couple. They go to the game each week, making the drive from Bellevue, Neb. They know everyone in their West Stadium section and wouldn't trade their seats for anything.

What makes Willis, 90, and Fran, 94, unique among Husker fans, is that they have been going to games since they first purchased season tickets in 1950. They bought their first season tickets soon after World War II, have sat in the same seats in the North end of the West Stadium since 1950 and have been loyal contributors to the program since 1960. Willis said he got Fran hooked on the Huskers after taking her to Memorial Stadium on Nov. 4, 1943 to see the Huskers face off against Iowa in a blizzard. "I knew if she sat through that game, she would be a fan then," he said.

363 Games and Counting

There are many families who have had season tickets throughout the sellout streak. After all, that's what makes Nebraska special and an NCAA record 300 sellouts possible. And there are likely a few other fans, like Willis and Fran, who have seen all or nearly all 300 games in the sellout streak (and we want to hear from you too).

But few fans have seen an additional 63 home game played in Memorial Stadium under head coaches Bill Glassford, Pete Elliott and Bill Jennings, as Willis and Fran did in the 12 years leading up to the first sellout against Missouri on Nov. 3, 1962.

You would think that rain, sleet, snow or a family occasion would deter the couple from at least a few games in the 48-year sellout streak. But, according to the couple, they have missed just one game in the 300-game streak. They attended their son Bill's wedding on Sept. 21, 1991 when Nebraska played host to Washington. Luckily, a television set was available at the reception so Willis and Fran could watch the game, but the 36-21 loss to the Huskies in their absence still hurts a bit.

Fewer still, and perhaps no other, had the farsighted vision that Willis must have had that inspired him to keep every ticket stub from those games.

He had them all, and then some. Some of the tickets (from section 30, row 20, seats 9 and 10), even have the scores written on them. Win or lose, Willis kept them in a shoe box for more than a half century. In 1994, Willis loaned those tickets to the athletic department in order to make a 200th sellout poster. This season, when again contacted by athletics to see if he kept the tradition going, Willis donated them to the department. This enabled local photographer Alan Jackson to take the photo for the commemorative 300th sellout print, which every season ticket holder will receive as a gift from the athletic department. The tickets are displayed in a trophy case in West Stadium, along with the throwback jerseys the team is wearing tonight.

The Early Das

Willis and Fran were not able to attend many Husker football games during college, because money and jobs were hard to find. Fran, whose parents farmed in Red Cloud, began college in 1934 and graduated from the Teacher's College with a business degree in 1939, while Willis, a Hastings native, started at UNL in 1937, graduating with a degree in architecture in 1942. Fran worked in private homes to meet room and board requirements while Willis worked at Magee's Clothing Store at 12th and O Streets in downtown Lincoln. He started as a paper bailer, making 25 cents an hour. Later, Willis was promoted to a sales position, assisting in the ladies' accessories department and in the boys' department toward the end of his five years of service with Magee's.

They met on a blind date in November of 1939. Fran was a "stand-in" for another girl who was originally to go out with Willis. They went to see nationally known evangelist E. Stanley Jones at the Nebraska Union because it was free. The happy couple later married on June 15, 1941 at St. Paul Methodist Church in Lincoln - 68 blissful years ago. Four years younger than Fran, Willis said he "married an older woman because a woman's life expectancy is longer. And so far it's working!"

Willis was still in school when they wed. Fran worked in the Temple Building in the Architecture Library while Elmer Magee graciously raised Willis' salary to 40 cents an hour to help them make ends meet. Following a military ordinance depot project in Sidney while living in Kimball, Willis was an inspector of B-26 and B-29 bombers at Glenn L. Martin plant in Bellevue. Willis was drafted in 1944, just after their first child, Diane, was born.

When Uncle Sam Called, Willis Answered

Willis proudly served his country until the end of the war as a member of the 736th Field Artillery Battalion, which was attached to General Patton's third army. Willis sailed to Europe on the Queen Elizabeth - the largest ship in the world at the time. They were allowed to sail unescorted as the Queen was thought to be faster than enemy submarines.

Willis' younger brother Don was a member of the 106th Infantry Division, which was captured by the Germans in the Battle of the Bulge. On Good Friday morning of 1945, Willis' unit traveled past the POW camp where Don was being held near Kassel, Germany. Just two hours prior, the Germans began retreating and had vacated the camp. Don recognized the passing battalion as Willis', and managed to stop the chaplain and slip him a piece of paper with his name and serial number to give Willis. Willis got permission from his commander to take a fellow soldier and a Jeep to go back to the camp and see his brother, thus becoming the first uncaptured Americans to be allowed into the camp. Willis shared his C-rations with the starving soldiers, which consisted of beef stew, beef hash, and chicken noodle soup made by Swanson in Omaha.

In the line of fire at other times, Willis was fortunate to suffer only a torn raincoat by a German .88 shell fragment and returned to Fran and Nebraska as a staff sergeant. Margot Regier Cook was born nine months after Willis returned from the war. Twin boys, Phil and Bill, followed a few years later. All four of the Regier children attended UNL, with Diane, Phil and Bill earning bachelor's and advanced degrees from UNL.

Willis went on to own and operate Willis Regier, Inc., an architecture company located in Omaha for many years. He retired and closed the business in 1980 but served as a project architect with the Corps of Engineers until 1990. He continues to work with the city of Bellevue and Dean Wayne Drummond of the UNL College of Architecture as needed.

Nebraska Fans for Life...

Through the years, Willis and Fran enjoyed traveling to road and bowl games and to Oklahoma and Missouri games in particular, where they have close friends. The Regiers were even honored at an Oklahoma game in Norman along with an Oklahoma couple. Some of Willis and Fran's favorite memories from Husker football games, in no particular order, include:

- » The beautiful view of the state capitol in the 1950s from West Stadium, where the Regiers' first season tickets were located (cost was $3 per ticket).
- » Watching the balloons when they are released after a score.
- » The flyovers before the games and the joint team prayer and fireworks after games.
- » The way fans stay to applaud as the team leaves the field. ("We were in the section that began that tradition," Fran said.)
- » Traveling to every Big Eight stadium, and five or six bowl games. ("Once a Mizzou fan stole my hat after a game in Columbia," Willis remembered.)
- » Obtaining a piece of the goalposts that were torn down in 1959 after the Huskers broke the Sooners' 16-game winning streak, winning 25-21.
- » Riding the train from Omaha to games ($5 from South Omaha to the stadium).
- » Meeting Lynn Swann at the Colorado game on Oct. 29, 1994, when Swann interviewed them from the sideline as part of the 200th consecutive celebration.

Willis and Fran have seen games coached by eight different Husker head coaches and made observations about many. They "liked Devaney's sense of humor," admire Coach Osborne for his "sense of honor and for beginning the Teammates program" (for which they both are still mentors); count Ron Brown as a good friend and admire him as a "conscientious Christian who has helped many players find their way in life;" and thinks "Bo is a wonderful father and a superb football coach."

Although asked repeatedly, Willis held firmly to his belief that his favorite game "is still the current game" and added that Memorial Stadium is a place unlike any other to watch a game—in part because of his fellow fans who helped build the sellout tradition celebrated today.

The final thought of this dedicated Husker couple? "Nebraska fans are every bit as good as we think we are."

HEAD COACH BO PELINI

Tradition. Passion. Discipline.

Those are a few of the trademarks that define Nebraska football and are characteristics that have made Nebraska one of the most storied and decorated programs in college football history.

The words can also be used to describe Bo Pelini—the man in his second season in charge of the Cornhusker football program.

The youngest of eight children, Pelini grew up in the hard-nosed town of Youngstown, Ohio. Pelini's parents instilled the discipline at a young age that has guided Bo to success both in and out of athletics.

Pelini's passion for athletics began in Youngstown. After a standout prep career at Cardinal Mooney High School, Pelini went on to Ohio State. A hard-hitting safety, Pelini was known for his passionate and relentless play. Teammates recognized his leadership and elected him a team captain as a senior.

The tradition of being part of winning programs did not end after Pelini's playing career. His coaching career has featured success at every stop along the way. A Super Bowl ring and a national championship are part of the 41-year-old's impressive resume.

That coaching resume included a one-year stop as defensive coordinator at Nebraska. During the 2003 season, Pelini quickly learned the traditions of Nebraska football and its passionate fan base. In turn, Husker fans recognized the discipline and passion instilled by Pelini in the Blackshirt defense.

After four years as the nation's most successful defensive coordinator, Pelini returned to Lincoln in December of 2007. Nebraska Athletic Director and Hall of Fame coach Tom Osborne named Pelini the 28th head coach in Nebraska football history on Dec. 2, 2007.

In his first season in charge of the program, Pelini stayed true to his disciplined, no-nonsense attitude. The result was a Cornhusker team that reflected the mentality of its head coach, continued to improve throughout the 2008 season and provided momentum heading into the offseason.

Pelini guided the Huskers to a 9-4 record, capped by victories in the Huskers' final four games and six of the season's final seven contests. The late-season surge allowed Nebraska to earn a share of the Big 12 North championship, and the Huskers picked up their ninth win with a 26-21 come-from-behind victory over Clemson in the Kona Minolta Gator Bowl. The win was a fitting conclusion for a team that developed a toughness that was a direct extension of its head coach.

Pelini became just the fourth Cornhusker coach to win nine games in his first season, taking a place alongside only Bob Devaney, Tom Osborne and Frank Solich. The nine wins were also tied for the most among the 18 first-year 2008 head coaches in the Football Bowl Subdivision, and were the most among first-time head coaches.

Nebraska's current four-game winning streak is the longest for the Huskers entering a season since 2000. The 6-1 run to close 2008 tied for the best by a Nebraska team since 1997, and Nebraska won its final four games for just the second time since 1997.

The success under Pelini in 2008 can be attributed to both sides of the football. The Husker offense continued to rank among the nation's best, finishing in the nation's top 20 in passing offense, scoring offense and total offense, while developing a consistent running game over the second half of the season.

The biggest gains were made on the defensive side of the ball where Pelini implemented his proven defensive system. Nebraska improved its total defensive average by 126.9 yards per game and finished second in the Big 12 in total defense. The run defense allowed 116.5 yards per game, nearly cutting its average from 2007 in half and finishing in the top 25 nationally in that category. The Blackshirts also posted 35 sacks, nearly tripling the total of the previous season.

The successful first season for Pelini came as a result of his ability to quickly implement his attitude and leadership into the program. After taking over the Huskers, Pelini wasted no time instilling a disciplined approach on and off the field, while also embracing the traditions of the Cornhusker football program. Pelini built a coaching staff that had close ties to both the Pelini family and the Nebraska football family.

The Nebraska staff includes three former Husker players, and six full-time assistant coaches with previous experience at Nebraska. Seven coaches have worked alongside Pelini, including five members of the 2003 Husker staff. His Youngstown roots are also represented with three Cardinal Mooney grads among the Husker coaches.

Pelini immediately showed the discipline to handle multiple tasks following his hiring. While quickly taking charge of all aspects of the Nebraska program, Pelini was also committed to finishing what he had started at LSU. Pelini returned to Baton Rouge in mid-December and successfully orchestrated the Tigers' defensive game plan for the BCS National Championship game against Ohio State. The 38-24 win over the Buckeyes was keyed by a defense that forced three turnovers and had five sacks.

Following the championship victory, Pelini turned his full focus to Nebraska. His first order of business in Lincoln was to pull together the Huskers' 2008 recruiting class. Pelini successfully organized and led a recruiting charge that allowed Nebraska to sign a talented and balanced recruiting class in February. In its first full year together, Pelini's staff assembled another impressive group of recruits in 2009.

Pelini also understands the importance of the storied Nebraska walk-on program, and has integrated it as a key part of the Huskers' recruiting plan. The Cornhusker staff has welcomed nearly 50 walk-ons to the program in the first two seasons, and will continue to make the walk-on program a focus in future years.

Pelini has also reached out to two groups that form the backbone of the tradition-rich Nebraska program—its former players and its passionate fan base.

Former Cornhuskers have rallied behind Pelini's blue-collar approach to returning Nebraska to its place among the nation's elite. In turn the head coach has opened his door to those who helped build the program. Pelini has made a strong effort to connect with former players and those past Cornhuskers have become a fixture in the football offices and at practices.

Pelini has made regular public appearances around the state, reaching out to the nation's most loyal fans. The widespread support for Pelini has been evident at every stop and his simple, humble approach is a perfect fit with Nebraskans. The support for Pelini has been evident since his arrival, beginning with 80,000 fans at the Red-White Spring Game in April of 2008 to loyal followings on the road and at the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville.

While devoting time to former players, fans and attracting talented future Huskers, Pelini's No. 1 professional priority has been, and always will be, the current players in his program. Players have responded to his straight-forward message: Work hard, do the right thing and success will follow.

That approach has worked for Pelini at each of his previous stops. In his three seasons as the defensive coordinator at LSU, Pelini's dominant defenses helped the Tigers compile a 34-6 record, including the 2007 BCS national championship and the Southeastern Conference championship. The BCS title game in January of 2008 marked the third time in four years that Pelini was a part of a team that played in a BCS game.

The play of Pelini's defenses was a key part of LSU's success. The Tigers ranked third in the nation in total defense in 2007, surrendering an average of 288.8 yards per game. LSU also ranked in the top 25 nationally in pass efficiency defense (3rd), passing yards allowed per game (9th), rush defense (14th) and scoring defense (17th). Senior defensive tackle Glenn Dorsey was the nation's most decorated defender in 2007, earning the Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award, while safety Craig Steltz earned All-America honors.

Pelini's defenses have a history of swarming to the football. LSU forced 36 turnovers in 2007, the third-most takeaways in the country, and it was a fourth-quarter interception return for a touchdown that provided the difference in LSU's SEC title-game win over Tennessee. The Tigers' 2007 defensive success was the standard for Pelini at LSU, as each of his three LSU defenses ranked No. 3 nationally in total defense.

Pelini's 2006 unit surrendered just 242.8 yards per game, the fewest by a Tiger team since 1976. The play helped LSU to a No. 3 final national ranking, and the Tigers led the SEC in six categories and also ranked in the top five nationally in scoring defense, pass defense and pass efficiency defense. A pair of Tigers earned first-team All-America honors, including Dorsey and safety LaRon Landry, who went on to become the sixth overall pick in the NFL Draft by the Washington Redskins.

In 2005, the Tigers allowed just 266.9 yards per game, and ranked in the top 10 nationally in all four major defensive categories, including third in total defense, scoring defense and pass efficiency defense. Kyle Williams and Claude Wroten were both first-team All-America selections.

Pelini served as the co-defensive coordinator on Bob Stoops' staff at Oklahoma in 2004, helping the Sooners win a Big 12 title and reach the national championship game against USC. Oklahoma finished the season ranked sixth nationally in rush defense, 11th in scoring defense and 13th in total defense.

"Nebraska has one of the best young coaches in the country. Bo will outwork anybody and everybody to get Nebraska back among the elite of college football."

ESPN Analyst Kirk Herbstreit

Pelini's first collegiate full-time job came at Nebraska in 2003, when he engineered a dominant Blackshirt defense and earned widespread support from the Cornhusker faithful. As the coordinator of the Huskers' defense for Head Coach Frank Solich, Pelini led an energized unit that finished among the Big 12 and nation's best in nearly every defensive category.

Nebraska finished the year ranked first nationally in pass efficiency defense, second in scoring defense and 11th in total defense. Pelini's defense was also one of the most opportunistic in school history. The Huskers set a school and Big 12 record with 32 interceptions and tied an NU record with 47 takeaways, helping Nebraska lead the nation in turnover margin.

Pelini began his second tour of duty at Nebraska with a victory on his resume. His first tenure in Lincoln was capped by serving as the interim head coach for Nebraska's dominant 17-3 win over Michigan State in the 2003 Alamo Bowl. NU's performance in that game reflected Pelini's personality, as the Huskers controlled the line of scrimmage with the running game and the defense held MSU to just 174 total yards and a first-quarter field goal.

Overall, the six college teams Pelini has been a part of have compiled an impressive 65-14 record, winning at least nine games every season. His defenses have posted eight shutouts and held the opposition to seven points or less 28 times.

Before joining the Huskers in 2003, Pelini had nine years of NFL experience, one season at a Division I university, and one year in the high school ranks. Pelini broke into the NFL in 1994 as assistant secondary coach for head coach George Seifert and the San Francisco 49ers. Originally hired as a scouting assistant, Pelini was quickly promoted to assistant secondary coach in the spring of 1994. Less than a year after his promotion to an on-field coaching spot, Pelini was coaching in the Super Bowl, helping the 49ers to a 49-26 win over San Diego in Super Bowl XXIX. Pelini held that position for three years before moving to the Patriots for the 1997 season.

As a member of the Patriots staff, Pelini coached the linebackers under head coach Pete Carroll. Pelini helped the Patriots go 27-21 over a three-year period with the club making the playoffs twice. Pelini's efforts were highlighted with a Pro Bowl appearance by Chris Slade in 1997, the first Patriot linebacker to be named All-Pro since 1989.

After three years with the Patriots, Pelini moved to the Packers, coaching linebackers for three seasons. In three years in Green Bay with head coach Mike Sherman, the Packers posted a 33-15 record and advanced twice to the playoffs. In 2002, the Packer defense ranked fourth in the NFL in pass defense, allowing 188.4 yards per game.

Pelini got his start in coaching in 1991, serving as a graduate assistant coach at Iowa under Hayden Fry.

From there he moved into the high school ranks, serving as quarterbacks coach at Cardinal

Mooney High School in Youngstown, Ohio in 1993 before taking the leap to the 49ers.

A standout free safety at Ohio State from 1987 to 1990, Pelini earned four letters for the Buckeyes. He was coached by Earle Bruce in 1987 and John Cooper his final three seasons. Pelini helped the Buckeyes to a 15-8 record over his final two seasons as a starter, and he was a three-time selection to the Academic All-Big Ten team. As a senior co-captain Pelini received the "Bo Rein Award," given annually to the Buckeyes' most inspirational player.

After earning his bachelor's degree in business marketing from Ohio State in 1990, Pelini completed his master's degree in sports administration at Ohio University in 1992. Pelini and his wife, Mary Pat, have three children, a 10-year-old son, Patrick, and two daughters, Kate, 8 and Caralyn, 6.

HUSKER ASSISTANT COACHES

Carl Pelini

Defensive Coordinator/Defensive Line

Carl Pelini is in his second season on his younger brother's Nebraska coaching staff. In his first season as NU's defensive coordinator and defensive line coach, Pelini helped the Huskers field one of the nation's most improved defenses.

The Nebraska defense finished second in the Big 12 in total defense and ranked among the top 25 nationally in rushing defense. After creating 13 sacks in 2007, a re-energized Blackshirt defense had 35 sacks in 2008. The Blackshirts also finished tops in the conference on third downs, allowing opposing teams to convert only 33.7 percent.

Defensive tackle Ndamukong Suh thrived under Pelini, leading the team and all Big 12 defensive linemen in tackles with 76. Suh also posted a team-high 19 tackles for loss, and led the team in sacks (7.5) and interceptions (2). For his performance Suh was a first-team All-Big 12 selection.

Pelini is no stranger to Lincoln, having served as Nebraska's defensive graduate assistant in 2003, when Bo was the defensive coordinator. Carl Pelini worked with the defensive line and helped a unit that ranked second nationally in scoring and takeaways and finished 11th in total defense.

Following his one season with NU, Pelini spent 2004 as the defensive coordinator and secondary coach at Minnesota State Mankato, under Jeff Jamrog.

Pelini was then hired to coach the defensive line at Ohio and helped turn the program around. In 2006, the Bobcats won the Mid-American Conference Eastern Division while winning nine games for the first time since 1968. In 2007, Ohio ranked in the top 30 nationally in scoring and total defense.

Pelini was an accomplished high school coach prior to his first stint at Nebraska. He was the head coach at Fitch High School in Austintown, Ohio, from 2000 to 2002. Pelini was also the head coach and athletic director at Winnetonka High School in Kansas City, Mo., from 1996 to 2000.

Pelini played two seasons at Columbia University, before transferring to Youngstown State. While working toward his bachelor's degree, Pelini was an assistant coach at his alma mater, Cardinal Mooney High School. He became a defensive graduate assistant coach on Bill Snyder's staff at Kansas State in 1989 and 1990, then served as a restricted earnings coach for KSU in 1991.

Pelini earned his bachelor's degree in English literature from Youngstown State in 1989. He added a master's degree in journalism from Kansas State in 1991 and a master's in education from Ohio State University in 1993.

Shawn Watson

Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

Shawn Watson is in his fourth season at Nebraska and his third as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. Watson has a proven track record as a successful offensive coordinator in the Big 12 Conference and has 27 years of college coaching experience, including three years as a head coach.

Watson's balanced attack in 2008 averaged 169.8 yards per game on the ground and 281.0 yards in the air, as the Huskers' 450.8 yards of total offense per game ranked 12th nationally. Nebraska also ranked in the top 20 nationally in passing offense and scoring offense, finished second nationally in time of possession and was in the top 20 in the country in third-down conversion percentage.

In 2008, senior quarterback Joe Ganz directed Watson's offense with precision and led an assault on the NU record book. Ganz set single-season school records for total yards with 3,826 and passing yards with 3,568. He threw for 25 touchdowns while completing 67.9 percent of his passes and gained 258 yards on the ground with five touchdowns, finishing his career with more than 20 Nebraska records.

Watson was promoted to offensive coordinator before the 2007 season and wasted little time making an impact on the Nebraska offense. In 2007, the Huskers threw for a school-record 3,886 yards, including the top three passing days in school history. The offense ranked ninth nationally at 468.2 yards per game, the best average at Nebraska since 1997. NU ranked seventh nationally in passing, averaging a school-record 323.8 yards per game in 2007.

In his first season at Nebraska in 2006, Watson coached the Nebraska tight ends and was the recruiting coordinator. Under Watson, Matt Herian finished his career with a Nebraska tight end record for receptions (65) and reception yardage (1,243).

Watson came to Nebraska after seven seasons on Gary Barnett's Colorado coaching staff from 1999 to 2005, including the last six as the Buffs' offensive coordinator. Watson was on the staff of four Colorado teams that won the Big 12 North Division, including a conference championship in 2001.

Prior to his time at CU, Watson worked at Northwestern in 1997 and 1998, serving as quarterbacks coach.

He earned his spot with the Wildcats following a three-year stint as head coach at Southern Illinois, his alma mater. During his three years at the helm, SIU compiled an 11-22 record, and produced 20 all-conference players.

Before Southern Illinois, Watson had a seven-year run as an assistant coach at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio.

His first full-time assistant coaching job came at Illinois, where he first served as a graduate assistant in 1983 and 1984, then worked with the offensive tackles and tight ends in 1985, before serving as the wide receivers coach in 1986.

Watson began his playing career at Illinois in 1978, but transferred to Southern Illinois in 1979 for his final two seasons. He earned a bachelor's degree from SIU in 1982, then served for one season as a graduate assistant with SIU in 1982.

Tim Beck

Running Backs

Tim Beck is in his second season on Coach Bo Pelini's Nebraska staff and serves as the Huskers' running backs coach. In his first season at Nebraska, Beck coached a prolific running game that averaged 169.8 yards per game, including three running backs who topped 450 rushing yards.

Beck's coaching allowed Nebraska's running game to continue to improve throughout 2008. Nebraska had five games with more than 200 rushing yards in conference play, including a season-high 355 yards against Kansas State. In conference games, Nebraska ranked No. 3 in the Big 12 at 182.5 yards per game, tops in the North division.

Beck came to Nebraska with excellent knowledge of the conference after a three-year stint on Mark Mangino's coaching staff at Kansas. Beck was Kansas' receivers coach each of his three seasons on Mark Mangino's staff, and was promoted to pass game coordinator in 2007. The KU passing game flourished under Beck's leadership in 2007, and helped lead the Jayhawks to a 12-1 record and a No. 7 final national ranking. Kansas finished the year ranked second nationally in scoring offense (42.8 ppg), eighth in total offense (479.8 ypg) and 17th in passing offense (291.0 ypg).

Before joining KU, Beck spent three seasons as head coach at Summit High in Mansfield, Texas. He was the 2003 District Coach of the Year after leading Summit to its first-ever playoff appearance and district championship. In 2004, SHS defended its title and advanced to the quarterfinals of the state playoffs.

Beck served as the head coach at R.L. Turner High in Carrollton, Texas, from 1999 to 2001. He led the school to back-to-back playoff appearances and consecutive winning seasons for the first time in 25 years.

Prior to coaching in the Texas high school ranks, Beck worked at Missouri State for three seasons from 1996 to 1998, including one season as the offensive coordinator. In 1998, the MSU offense racked up 4,542 total yards.

Beck was hired at Missouri State after leading Saguaro High School in Scottsdale, Ariz., to the 1995 4A state championship—the first state title in the school's 30-year history. Beck was named the regional coach of the year in 1994 and compiled a 23-4 record career record at Saguaro, compared to a 5-43 mark in the five seasons prior to his arrival. Among the standouts Beck coached at Saguaro was former Nebraska All-America safety Mike Brown.

The 42-year-old Beck first gained experience in the Big 12 as a graduate assistant at Kansas State in 1991 and 1992. Beck worked on the KSU staff at the same time as Husker defensive coordinator Carl Pelini. Before his one season with the Wildcats, Beck coached the outside linebackers and punters at Illinois State in 1990. He worked in 1988 and 1989 as an assistant coach at Miramar High School in Miramar, Fla.

Beck played collegiately at Central Florida and earned his bachelor's degree from UCF in 1988.

Ron Brown

Tight Ends

Veteran college assistant Ron Brown rejoined the Nebraska coaching staff in 2008 and enters his second season as the Huskers' tight ends coach. The 2009 campaign will be Brown's 19th overall season as a Nebraska assistant after serving as an assistant for 17 seasons from 1987 to 2003.

In his first season back in the collegiate game, Brown assisted with an NU offense that finished 12th nationally in total offense. Mike McNeill set a Nebraska tight end season record with 32 receptions, including six touchdown grabs, while Dreu Young averaged a team-leading 15.6 yards per catch.

Brown served as receivers coach for his entire first tenure with the Huskers and also tutored the tight ends. During his first stint, the blocking of Brown's receivers played a key role in nine NU NCAA rushing titles. Brown was the most veteran member of Solich's final Nebraska coaching staff in 2003.

The 52-year-old Brown spent the four years prior to his return to coaching serving as the Nebraska State Director of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. During his time away from coaching, Brown also worked as an internet, television and radio college and high school analyst for ESPN and Sports Spectrum.

Although Brown enjoys wide respect for his work away from football, he is also nationally respected for his ability as an intense teacher on the gridiron. Despite featuring a run-based attack, Brown's receivers and tight ends led the Big 12 in touchdown receptions three times from 1996 to 2003.

Twenty-seven of Brown's former pupils have gone on to professional careers, including tight end Johnny Mitchell, the New York Jets' first-round pick in 1992; Tyrone Hughes, a two-time Pro Bowl selection with the New Orleans Saints, and tight end Sheldon Jackson, a second-team All-America selection and 1999 draft pick of the Buffalo Bills.

Brown coached 34 academic all-conference players and two CoSIDA Academic All-Americans during his two tenures with the Huskers.

Brown originally joined Tom Osborne's staff after four years of coaching at Brown University in Providence, R.I., from 1983 to 1986. Brown's first season was as Brown's head freshman coach, while his last three seasons were spent as the defensive backfield coach.

Brown was a two-time first-team All-Ivy League performer as a defensive back. He was selected to Brown University's All-Century team and the school's Sports Hall of Fame.

Brown received his bachelor's degree from Brown in 1979, then earned his master's degree in health administration from Columbia University in 1982.

Barney Cotton

Associate Head Coach Offensive Line

Barney Cotton is in his second season as the offensive line coach. The Omaha native is in his third season overall as a Nebraska assistant, having previously served as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach in 2003, a position Cotton has tutored for 20 years. Cotton also serves as Nebraska's associate head coach, assisting Head Coach Bo Pelini with a number of administrative issues.

Cotton helped the Nebraska offense post impressive numbers in 2008, as the Huskers finished among the top 20 nationally in total offense, scoring offense and passing offense. Senior offensive guard Matt Slauson was a second-team All-Big 12 pick under Cotton's guidance, while center Jacob Hickman was an honorable-mention pick by the coaches and tackle Lydon Murtha was named honorable-mention by the Associated Press.

Cotton was also a member of the Nebraska coaching staff in 2003, when he was the offensive coordinator and offensive line coach. Cotton's offensive unit helped NU to a 10-3 record and a victory over Michigan State in the Alamo Bowl. Nebraska ranked among the top 10 nationally in rushing offense and four Husker offensive linemen earned all-conference accolades.

Following his one-year stint with the Huskers, Cotton served as the offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at Iowa State from 2004 to 2006.

Before his four-year run as a Big 12 offensive coordinator, Cotton spent the previous six seasons as the offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at New Mexico State.

Under Cotton's direction, the Aggie offense ranked in the top 25 nationally in total offense three times in six seasons—13th in 1998, 17th in 2000 and 23rd in 2002. NMSU ranked in the top 25 in rushing offense in each of Cotton's six seasons, and six Aggie linemen earned all-conference accolades.

Cotton went to NMSU from Hastings College, where he was head coach in 1995 and 1996. In 1995, Cotton was named the Nebraska-Iowa Athletic Conference Coach of the Year after the Broncos won the NIAC championship and made an appearance in the NAIA playoffs.

Cotton spent six seasons as the offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at St. Cloud State (Minn.) from 1989 to 1994. In 1989, St. Cloud won the North Central Conference championship and averaged more than 400 yards per game of total offense.

An all-state selection as a senior at Omaha Burke High School, Cotton played for Nebraska from 1975 to 1978. He earned second-team All-Big Eight honors as a guard in 1978 on Osborne's Big Eight championship team. A participant in the 1979 East-West Shrine Game, Cotton was a third-round pick of the Cincinnati Bengals in 1979 and went on to play four seasons in the NFL before a knee injury forced his retirement.

Cotton earned a bachelor's degree from Nebraska in 1983 and a master's degree in athletic administration from St. Cloud State in 1994.

Mike Ekeler

Linebackers

Mike Ekeler is in his second season on the NU defensive staff. A native Nebraskan, Ekeler serves as linebackers coach.

In his first season with Nebraska, Ekeler molded a young linebacking corps that helped the Huskers rank second in the Big 12 in total defense in 2008, a dramatic improvement from 2007. Nebraska allowed 126 fewer yards per game than in 2008 and cut its rushing defense average nearly in half. The defensive accomplishments came despite the linebacking corps battling numerous injuries that forced Ekeler to use six different linebackers in the starting lineup throughout the year.

Ekeler joined the NU staff after spending the previous four seasons working alongside Bo Pelini. Ekeler spent the 2005 and 2006 seasons as a graduate assistant coach at LSU, working with the Tiger defense. He then served as an intern for the LSU football team in 2007, helping the Tigers win the national title. The 2007 season marked the third time in five years Ekeler was part of a team that played in the BCS title game.

Ekeler spent the 2005 and 2006 seasons as a graduate assistant coach working for Bo Pelini and the Tiger defense. Ekeler then served as an intern for the LSU football team in 2007, helping the Tigers win the SEC championship and the national title, following a victory over Ohio State in the BCS National Championship Game. The 2007 season marked the third time in five years Ekeler was part of team that played in the BCS title game. Overall, LSU finished 34-6 in Ekeler's three seasons, including a perfect 3-0 record in bowl games.

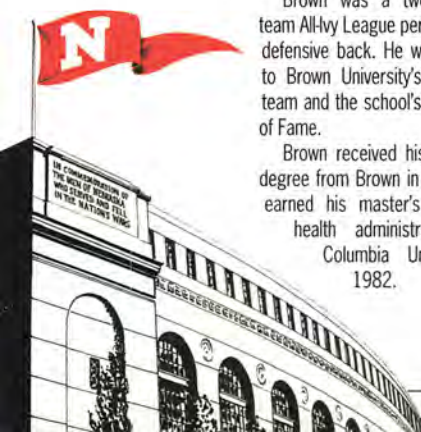

In each of Ekeler's three seasons with the LSU defense, the Tigers finished third nationally in total defense. In 2006, LSU led the SEC in six defensive categories and ranked in the top five nationally in four major categories. LSU finished in the top 10 nationally in 2005 in all four major defensive categories.

Ekeler spent the 2003 and 2004 seasons as a defensive graduate assistant at Oklahoma. In both of his seasons at OU, the Sooners participated in the national championship game and posted a combined record of 24-3. In 2004, Ekeler worked alongside Bo Pelini, who served as the Sooners' co-defensive coordinator in OU's Big 12 title season.

The Blair (Neb.) graduate got his start in coaching by serving as a volunteer assistant at Omaha Skutt High School from 1999 to 2001. The following season, Ekeler served as an assistant coach at Manhattan (Kan.) High School, before moving into the college game. Prior to his stint in the high school ranks, Ekeler spent seven years in private business, owning a sales company based in Omaha.

Ekeler earned a reputation as a hard-nosed, fiery competitor during his playing days at Kansas State from 1991 to 1994. A four-year letterman, Ekeler was a linebacker and special teams standout for Coach Bill Snyder's teams. Snyder appointed Ekeler a captain in 1994, the only self-appointed captain during Snyder's 17 seasons as Wildcat head coach. Ekeler was also honored in the classroom, earning academic all-conference honors.

Ekeler played a key role in Blair High School's 1988 Class B state championship as a junior wide receiver and linebacker.

Ted Gilmore

Assistant Head Coach - Offense

Wide Receivers/Recruiting Coordinator

Ted Gilmore enters his fifth season on the Nebraska coaching staff in 2009. He has served as the receivers coach for each of his first four years, while also handling the role of recruiting coordinator the past three years. The 42-year-old Gilmore added the title of assistant head coach-offense in 2009.

Husker receivers have posted record-setting numbers under Gilmore's direction, helping the NU passing game rank among the nation's top 15 in passing and total offense each of the past two seasons.

In 2008, senior Nate Swift broke 1972 Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Rodgers' school record for career receptions. Swift finished his career with 166 catches for 2,476 yards, ranking second at NU in season and career receiving yards. Swift also caught a wide receiver-record 63 passes as a senior.

Todd Peterson also excelled under Gilmore, ranking among the NU top five in career receptions and receiving yards. His 62 catches in 2008 rank third in Husker history. Peterson also picked up second-team academic All-America honors in 2008.

In 2007, Terrence Nunn and Maurice Purify finished their careers as two of the most prolific receivers in school history. Nunn ranks third in NU history with 136 career catches and third in career receiving yardage with 1,762. Purify caught 57 passes as a senior, the second-best total in school history and finished his two-year NU career with 16 touchdowns to rank second on that all-time list.

Gilmore came to Nebraska after spending two seasons at Colorado, where he also served as receivers coach. Gilmore guided D.J. Hackett and Derek McCoy, who combined for 141 receptions, 1,896 yards and 18 touchdowns in 2003. Hackett set the school record with 78 receptions as a senior.

Before his stint in Boulder, Gilmore spent two years as the wide receivers coach at Purdue. Gilmore coached the top receiving tandem in the Big Ten in Taylor Stubblefield and John Standeford in 2002. A 2004 All-American, Stubblefield became the NCAA career leader with 316 receptions after catching at least one pass in all 47 collegiate games. Standeford finished his career as the all-time Big Ten leader with 266 receptions and 3,788 yards, while also earning two first-team CoSIDA Academic All-America certificates.

Gilmore also had assistant coaching stints at Houston (2000), Kansas (1999) and his alma mater Wyoming (1997-98). He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Wyoming from 1994 to 1996. Gilmore worked with Biletnikoff Award winner Marcus Harris, who was the first receiver in NCAA history to record at least 1,400 receiving yards in three consecutive seasons and set the NCAA record with 4,518 career receiving yards.

Gilmore played his final two college seasons at Wyoming, lettering as a receiver in 1988 and 1989, after transferring from Butler County (Kan.) Community College. He was a second-team All-Western Athletic Conference pick as a senior after posting 32 receptions for 445 yards and two touchdowns. Gilmore earned his bachelor's degree in sociology from Wyoming in 1991.

John Papuchis

Defensive Ends

John Papuchis enters his second season on the Nebraska coaching staff. Papuchis tutors the Nebraska defensive ends and also plays a key role with the Husker special teams.

In his first year in Lincoln, Papuchis saw starting defensive ends Zach Potter and Pierre Allen combine for 26 tackles for loss and 10.5 sacks, with Potter earning honorable-mention All-Big 12 accolades. The defensive ends helped a Nebraska unit that finished second in the Big 12 in total defense.

The special teams unit had a banner year under Papuchis in 2008, headlined by place-kicker Alex Henery's school-record 57-yard game-winning field goal against Colorado. Henery finished the year 18-of-21 on field goals and missed just one extra point. He was chosen as a second-team All-Big 12 pick. The Huskers also ranked in the top 25 nationally in punt returns, and returned both a kickoff and punt for a touchdown in the same season for the first time since 1998.

Papuchis joined the Nebraska coaching staff after spending the previous four seasons on the football staff at LSU. Papuchis worked closely with Nebraska Head Coach Bo Pelini during their time together in Baton Rouge. Papuchis served as a defensive intern for the Tigers, assisting in every aspect of the defensive gameplan and scouting reports.

The efforts of Papuchis helped the Tigers rank among the nation's top defenses throughout his time with LSU. The Tigers ranked third nationally in total defense each season from 2005 to 2007. In 2007, the Tiger defense helped LSU to SEC and national titles, capped by a 38-24 victory over Ohio State in the BCS National Championship Game.

The Tigers had a pair of consensus All-Americans in defensive tackle Glenn Dorsey and safety Craig Steltz. Dorsey was one of the nation's most decorated players, collecting the 2007 Outland Trophy, Lombardi Award and Nagurski Trophy.

In 2006, the LSU defense surrendered just 242.8 yards per game, the fewest by a Tiger defense since 1976. LSU led the SEC in six defensive categories and ranked in the top five nationally in four major categories. LSU finished in the top 10 nationally in all four major defensive categories in 2005, and allowed fewer than 270 total yards per contest. Papuchis also coached the Tiger punters. In 2007, punter Patrick Fisher led the SEC in punting with a 44.5-yard average and earned first-team All-SEC honors.

Papuchis first joined Nick Saban's LSU staff prior to the 2004 season, helping the team earn a berth in the Capital One Bowl.

Papuchis had a three-year stint as a graduate assistant at Kansas from 2001 to 2003. In 2001, he worked with the Jayhawk secondary and then assisted with the linebackers. In his final season in Lawrence, Papuchis helped the Jayhawks earn a berth in the Tangerine Bowl.

Papuchis graduated from Virginia Tech in 2001 with a bachelor's degree in business management. He earned his master's degree in sports administration from Kansas in 2003.

Marvin Sanders

Assistant Head Coach - Defense

Secondary

Former Nebraska defensive back and assistant coach Marvin Sanders is in his second season as the secondary coach. Sanders has 16 years of experience in the college ranks, including previously serving as the NU defensive backs coach in 2003. In 2009, Sanders has added the title of assistant head coach-defense.

In 2008, Sanders developed a young Nebraska secondary that helped the Huskers rank second in the Big 12 Conference in total defense. In a loaded conference that included five of the nation's top eight passing offenses, the Husker secondary rose to the occasion, ranking second in the Big 12 in pass defense, allowing 233.4 yards per game.

Sanders' first opportunity as a Nebraska assistant was a memorable season for the Blackshirts. NU set a school record with 47 takeaways in 2003, keying a 10-3 season, which culminated with a trip to the Alamo Bowl. The Blackshirt defense set a school and Big 12 record with 32 interceptions and led the nation in pass efficiency defense, while finishing second in the country in scoring defense. Safety Josh Bullocks recorded a school-record 10 interceptions and became just the second NU sophomore in school history to earn All-America honors. Bullocks was also a semifinalist for the Jim Thorpe Award.

Following his one season with the Huskers, Sanders was an assistant for three seasons at North Carolina. In his first season, Sanders was the co-defensive coordinator and secondary coach and helped the Tar Heels reach the Continental Tire Bowl.

Sanders was defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach in his final two seasons with the Tar Heels. UNC improved more than 60 spots in the national defensive rankings in 2005, while posting its highest sack total since 2000, and their highest interception total since 1999.

Sanders had an accomplished record as a collegiate assistant before he joined the Nebraska staff in 2003. He came to Lincoln after a two-year stint as the secondary coach at Colorado State.

Before his two seasons at CSU, Sanders spent one season at New Mexico State, where he coached defensive ends and outside linebackers for Head Coach Tony Samuel.

Sanders' first stint as an assistant coach in the state of Nebraska came from 1995 to 1999, when he spent five seasons at Nebraska-Omaha. Sanders was the Mavericks' secondary coach for all five seasons and was the team's defensive coordinator for his final three years in Omaha.

A native of Markham, Ill., a Chicago suburb, Sanders was the secondary coach at Minnesota-Morris in 1994, where he also served as sports information director. Sanders coached at Nebraska Wesleyan in 1992 and 1993.

Sanders earned three letters as a defensive back at Nebraska from 1987 to 1989. Sanders finished 1989 with 26 tackles and two interceptions in only nine games and earned honorable-mention All-Big Eight honors for the Fiesta Bowl squad. Sanders received his bachelor's degree in business administration from Nebraska in 1990.

Jeff Jamrog

Associate A.D. for Football

Former Nebraska player and assistant coach Jeff Jamrog is in his second year as the Assistant Athletic Director for Football Operations for the Husker program.

Jamrog plays a key role in the administrative aspects of the football program and serves as a liaison with other parts of the athletic department. He works closely with Coach Bo Pelini and Athletic Director Tom Osborne on all football operations and assists with NU's recruiting efforts.

Jamrog also coordinates the travel, budget and staffing for the football office, assists with football scheduling, oversees the compliance, strength training, equipment and academic support units regarding football issues and also supervises football support staffs.

Jamrog returned to NU after spending four seasons as the head coach at Minnesota State-Mankato. He guided the Mavericks to a 17-27 overall record, including a 6-5 mark in 2004, the school's first winning season since 1994. The increase of six wins from 2003 to 2004 tied for the fifth-largest single-season jump in NCAA Division II history.

His four-year run at Minnesota State came after a brief stint as the defensive coordinator at Western Illinois University in the spring of 2004. Prior to that appointment, Jamrog had spent the previous four seasons as the defensive line coach on Frank Solich's staff at Nebraska.

In his final season, Jamrog also coached the defensive ends and was named special teams coordinator. During Jamrog's time with the Huskers, NU played for the national championship in the 2002 Rose Bowl.

Before his first tenure on the NU coaching staff, Jamrog spent three years as defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach at New Mexico State.

Jamrog was the defensive coordinator at Nebraska-Omaha from 1994 to 1996, and helped the Mavs to the 1996 North Central Conference title—the first outright NCC title in school history. UNO earned a No. 4 national ranking, and improved by seven wins over 1995, the second-largest turnaround in Division II history. He was the inside linebackers coach and special teams coordinator at South Dakota from 1990 to 1993. He began his coaching career at Nebraska in 1988 and 1989 as a graduate assistant.

Originally a walk-on for the Huskers, Jamrog lettered for three years as a defensive end. Jamrog was a first-team CoSIDA Academic All-American in 1987. He earned his bachelor's degree in business administration from Nebraska in 1987 and his master's in business administration in 1990.

James Dobson

Head Football Strength Coach

James Dobson joined the Nebraska football staff in January 2008 as Head Football Strength Coach. He oversees all aspects of the Husker strength and conditioning program for football, which includes winter conditioning, summer workouts and in-season training.

In Dobson's first season directing Nebraska's strength and conditioning efforts, the Huskers saw gains both on and off the field. Outstanding conditioning was a key factor in NU outscoring its opponents 155-52 in the fourth quarter in 2008. Nebraska's point total and scoring differential in the fourth quarter were both second-best in the nation.

Prior to Nebraska, Dobson was part of the Iowa Hawkeye football program. He was in Iowa City during one of the most successful periods in school history. Iowa appeared in bowl games in six of seven seasons and won 38 games from 2002 to 2005. Iowa won 25 Big Ten games in that same period, including Big Ten titles in 2002 and 2004.

With the Hawkeye program, Dobson worked under Chris Doyle, who is regarded as one of the nation's top strength coaches. Top pupils Dobson has worked with include safety Bob Sanders, tight end Dallas Clark, offensive tackle Robert Gallery and linebacker Chad Greenway.

Sanders earned All-America honors at Iowa in 2003, and was the 2007 NFL Defensive Player of the Year with the Indianapolis Colts. Clark began his Hawkeye career as a walk-on linebacker, but moved to tight end and went on to earn All-America honors in 2002, before being a first-round draft pick. Gallery came to Iowa as a 240-pound tight end, and through the strength program, he left as a 320-pound offensive tackle, won the 2003 Outland Trophy and was the second overall selection in the 2004 draft. Greenway earned All-America honors as a senior in 2005, and was a first-round pick of the Minnesota Vikings in 2006.

In addition to his experience at Iowa, Dobson worked for two years as an assistant strength and conditioning coach at Southern Methodist, working with the football, volleyball and basketball teams.

Dobson attended the University of Wisconsin, where he worked as a student assistant with the Badger football team for three seasons. He earned his bachelor's degree in kinesiology from Wisconsin in 1996, and his master's of science and administration degree from Central Michigan in 2004.

Ross Watson

Graduate Assistant Defense

Ross Watson is in his second season as a graduate assistant coach with the Nebraska defensive staff. In his first year, Watson assisted in a dramatic Cornhusker defensive resurgence. NU ranked second in the Big 12 in total defense in 2008, and improved its per game average by more than 125 yards.

Watson joined the Huskers after spending two seasons as the cornerbacks coach at his alma mater, Division III powerhouse Mount Union College in Alliance, Ohio. During Watson's two years on the Purple Raider staff, Mount Union posted a 29-1 record and won the 2006 national championship, before finishing as the Division III runner-up in 2007.

The 25-year-old Watson was a four-year letterwinner (2002-05) for Mount Union before joining the coaching staff. He started for each of his final three years at cornerback and earned first-team All-Ohio Athletic Conference and first-team AFCA All-America honors as a senior in 2005. Watson led the team with nine interceptions as a senior, just one shy of the school record. In his career, Watson totaled 146 tackles, 14 interceptions and 29 pass breakups.

A native of Youngstown, Ohio, Watson graduated from Mount Union in 2006 with a degree in business administration. He is pursuing a master's degree in education administration at Nebraska.

Curt Baldus

Graduate Assistant Offense

Curt Baldus rejoined the Husker coaching staff in January 2008 and is in his second season as an offensive graduate assistant coach. Baldus previously worked in the NU program as an offensive intern from February 2006 to January 2007.

The Husker offense was one of the nation's best in 2008. Nebraska finished 12th nationally in total offense and also ranked in the top 20 in passing offense and scoring offense.

Baldus rejoined the Huskers after one season at the University of Buffalo where he served as a graduate assistant under head coach Turner Gill. He assisted with the coaching of the offensive line, kickers and punters. Baldus was also in charge of opponent scouting reports, film breakdown and on-campus recruiting.

In his previous time with the Huskers as an intern, Baldus worked on film break-down, drawing offensive plays for weekly game plans and development of opponent scouting reports.

While at St. Cloud State University from July 2002 to December 2004 as a graduate assistant, Baldus helped with aspects of the offense and worked with kickers, punters and strength and conditioning.

Baldus attended Gustavus Adolphus where he played defensive back, outside linebacker and kicker. He earned all-conference honors as a kicker and was a District V Verizon All-Academic Team member in 2001.

Baldus earned his master's degree in both physical science and sport management from St. Cloud State University.

HUSKER FOOTBALL SUPPORT STAFF

Wince Morris
Assistant Director of Football Operations

Wince Morris is in his fourth year at Nebraska and serves as the assistant director of football operations. Morris plays a large role in organizing team travel, and is part of the Huskers' advance travel group. He assists Assistant Athletic Director Jeff Jamrog with all aspects of football operations, including playing a key role in Nebraska's summer camps. He also assists with on-campus recruiting, among other assigned duties.

Morris came to NU after working nine months in private business in the Cincinnati, Ohio, area. He worked in the commercial capital division at National City Bank in Cincinnati before joining the Huskers, after spending four years as a litigation paralegal at Manley, Burke in Cincinnati. A 1997 graduate of Miami (Ohio), Morris played football for the RedHawks and earned his degree in political science in 1997.

Mark Mayer
Head Football
Athletic Trainer

Mark Mayer joined the Nebraska staff as head football athletic trainer in May of 2007. Mayer came to the Nebraska program with more than a dozen years of experience in athletic medicine, including serving the previous nine years as the assistant athletic trainer for the Oakland Raiders.

Mayer heads up Nebraska's athletic medicine efforts for the football team. His responsibilities include year-round preventive care, immediate care for injured athletes at practices and games, and the reconditioning of injured athletes.

Mayer graduated from the University of California at Davis in 1994. He earned his bachelor's of science degree in physical education and is certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association.

Mike Nobler
Football Video Director

Mike Nobler is in his first year on the Nebraska staff where he serves as football video director. Nobler's primary responsibility lies in overseeing Nebraska's 36-client XOS coaching video network that is utilized by the whole football coaching staff on a near-daily basis. Along with a video staff of seven, Nobler implements the video system for the day-to-day use by coaches, including the taping and editing of practice and games along with opponent video breakdowns.

Nobler previously spent two years as a field representative for the maker of the Huskers' current video system, XOS Technologies. Nobler also spent four years as assistant video director at Oklahoma and one year in a similar video position at Illinois.

Megan Rogers
Coordinator of
On-Campus Recruiting

Megan Rogers enters her second year as coordinator of on-campus recruiting for the Nebraska football program. She is responsible for organizing and managing all aspects of the day-to-day operations of the recruiting department, including organizing all official and unofficial visits.

Rogers came to Nebraska after spending the 2007 season as the director of football administration at Colorado. Rogers, who was just the second woman to hold that title at Colorado, was in charge of organizing all aspects of team travel and coordinating CU's football camps among other duties. Overall, Rogers spent four seasons in the CU athletic department.

Rogers earned her bachelor's degree in psychology from Colorado in 2002. As an undergraduate, Rogers spent five years as a student equipment manager for the football team.

Patrick Spieldenner
Assistant Athletic
Trainer for Football

Patrick Spieldenner joined Nebraska as an assistant athletic trainer for football in 2007. He came to NU from the University of New Mexico, where he was the head athletic trainer for men's soccer and an assistant athletic trainer for football.

Spieldenner graduated from the University of New Mexico with his master's degree in physical education with an emphasis in sports administration in December of 2006. He earned his bachelor's degree in kinesiology with an emphasis in athletic training from San Diego State in 2004, where he spent more than three years as a student athletic trainer.

Outside of collegiate sports, Spieldenner spent season-long appointments with the NBA-D League's Albuquerque Thunderbirds and the NFL Europe's Rhein Fire, as well as season and summer internships with the NFL's San Diego Chargers.

Matt Schilling
Assistant Video
Coordinator

Matt Schilling is in his third season on the football staff as an assistant video coordinator. Schilling assists in providing all video needs for the Husker coaching staff, including film exchange and breakdown of practice and game footage.

Schilling came to Nebraska after spending more than a year as the video coordinator at Ball State. He previously served as a student video coordinator at Southern Illinois for four years, where he also worked with the men's and women's basketball teams for three seasons.

A native of Downers Grove, Ill., Schilling earned his bachelor's degree in radio/television production from Southern Illinois in 2004.

Aaryn Kearney
Football Recruiting
Staff Assistant

Aaryn Kearney joined the Nebraska football office on a full-time basis in February of 2009 as a recruiting staff assistant. Kearney assists in coordinating the recruiting process for the coaching staff, including correspondence to prospects and coaches and organizing NCAA compliance records pertaining to recruiting activities and campus visits. Kearney had worked in the recruiting office as a student worker for the previous year before his full-time appointment.

A native of Auburn, Neb., Kearney has been associated with the Husker football program since 2003, serving as a football student manager for five seasons.

Kearney graduated from Nebraska in 2008 with a bachelor's degree in communication studies.

Josh Hingst
Sports Nutritionist

Josh Hingst joined the Nebraska Athletic Department as sports nutritionist in April of 2009. The sports nutrition department integrates healthy choices in the daily activities for all of the Huskers' 23 varsity sports. In this role, Hingst directs body composition analysis, nutrition education, performance fueling strategies, eating disorder prevention and counseling, sports supplements and hydration. He also plays a vital role in coordinating meals on the road for all Nebraska teams.

Hingst's professional licenses and certifications include: Registered Dietician, Strength and Conditioning Coach Certified, and Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist.

Hingst previously served as team nutritionist for the Atlanta Falcons during the 2008 season, after spending five years in strength and conditioning and sports nutrition capacities at Florida State. During his time at FSU, Hingst earned his master's degree in clinical nutrition with an emphasis in sports nutrition. Hingst received his bachelor's degrees in nutritional sciences and dietetics and exercise science from Nebraska in 2001, and was an assistant strength and conditioning coach for the Huskers as a student at Nebraska.

Jay Terry
Equipment Manager

Jay Terry has been equipment manager at Nebraska since 2002 and has served on the equipment staff since 1998. Terry also spent two years as a student equipment manager before serving as an assistant equipment manager for four years.

Terry maintains the Husker football locker room and is in charge of the football team's equipment needs. He coordinates the transportation of all football and support equipment to road games, and oversees Nebraska's equipment staff of three full-time assistants and several student workers who handle all 23 of Nebraska's sports.

A 10-year member of the Athletic Equipment Managers Association, Terry earned a degree in communication studies from the University of Nebraska in May 2004.

TOM & NANCY OSBORNE ATHLETIC COMPLEX

The Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex is the home of Nebraska football at the north end of Memorial Stadium.

The centerpiece of the Osborne Complex is the Nebraska Strength Complex, used by all of NU's more than 600 student-athletes. Approximately 50 percent larger than the previous weight room located in the West Stadium, the Strength Complex is just steps away from the Nebraska football locker room and the Athletic Medicine Center. The landing, an area where athletes can grab a nutritional drink, relax after a workout or check their e-mail sits just outside the Strength Complex and adjacent to the Hawks Championship Center and football locker room.

In addition to housing the Huskers' football locker room, Strength Complex and Athletic Medicine areas, the building is the home of the football coaches offices and Nebraska's athletic administration. Visitors are greeted by a stunning 40-foot waterfall, an impressive donor wall and the entrance to the Charles and Romona Myers Performance Center.

Hawks Championship Center

Nebraska's Hawks Championship Center opened for the football team during bowl practice in 2005. The magnificent facility features FieldTurf identical to Memorial Stadium's surface. The field also opens onto the Ed and Joyanne Gass Practice Fields, which feature natural grass. The indoor center is connected by a skybridge to the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex to give Nebraska the best all-around football facilities in the nation.

THIS IS NEBRASKA FOOTBALL

Since the 1960s, Nebraska football has been associated with one thing: winning. Five national titles. Three Heisman Trophy winners. An NCAA-record streak of 297 consecutive sellouts at Memorial Stadium. A collegiate-record 35 straight bowl berths between 1969 and 2003. And a nation-leading 269 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans across all sports. Those numbers are mind-boggling for most, but to fans around the state, country and world, it's just part of being Nebraska Cornhuskers.

Nebraska football is much more than talented athletes and coaches taking the field to play a game – it is a family. The fans, support staff and student-athletes are all Dedicated to Excellence, and it is this commitment on and off the field that makes Nebraska unique and assures that the rich tradition of the Huskers will keep growing for years to come.

Reaching the pinnacle of college athletics is not an easy process, but the Huskers rely on five core values to continue their success: Integrity. Trust. Respect. Teamwork. Loyalty.

From the Huskers' Lucky Horseshoe, to the Tunnel Walk, to the release of balloons after the Huskers' first score, Nebraska football is full of old and new traditions that make seeing a game in Memorial Stadium a truly memorable experience.

One of the most revered traditions in Nebraska lore is that of the Blackshirts.

The tradition began the week of Sept. 26, 1964, quite by chance. The NCAA had approved the return of two-platoon football and Bob Devaney and his staff members were preparing to play Minnesota at Minneapolis. During a mid-week staff meeting, the Husker squad was divided into offensive and defensive players, color-coding the offensive and defensive units by jersey. Backfield coach Mike Corgan was the coach assigned to work with equipment manager Floyd Bottorff, and they secured pullover practice jerseys from a local sporting goods dealer.

By random selection, the first-team offense retained red jerseys, while the second offense wore green; first-team defense wore black and the second defensive unit wore gold. Soon after media members heard defensive line coach George Kelly and the other coaches yelling, "C'mon Blackshirts" or "Let's go Blackshirts" at practice. The first official recognition of the nickname came in the 1965 football media guide.

The Huskers' nationally acclaimed weight room and support system – along with some of the finest coaches ever to work a college sideline – have played a major role in Nebraska's dominating success, but another large part of the Nebraska 'team' is the fans.

The fan support the Huskers receive has helped Nebraska to a winning home record every year since 1969, including 25 seasons with at least six home victories. That strong home support helped Nebraska post at least nine wins in an NCAA-record 33 consecutive seasons from 1969 to 2001, 19 years longer than second-place Florida State. Overall, Nebraska owns 817 all-time victories to rank fourth in NCAA history.

The Huskers are among the elite programs in the country and few things prove that claim more than NU's run in the postseason. Nebraska is fifth nationally in all-time bowl appearances with 45 and played in an NCAA-record 17 straight Jan. 1 or 2 bowl games between 1982 and 1998. Nebraska has played a team ranked in the top three in the national polls 10 times in its past 19 bowl games.

Nebraska's bowl success has helped it to five national titles, including twice earning back-to-back titles. The Huskers became just the second team in college football history to win consecutive titles with perfect records when they won the 1994 (13-0) and 1995 (13-0) championships. NU added a third national title in 1997 to also become one of only two teams to win at least a share of the championship three times in four years. In total, the Huskers have played for the national title five times since 1992.

Aiding the unprecedented run has been a number of outstanding individuals who have contributed to the Husker legacy. Over the years, Nebraska players have accounted for three Heisman Trophies, eight Outland Trophies, four Lombardi Awards and three Walter Camp Awards. Huskers have also picked up Maxwell, Butkus, Johnny Unitas, Davey O'Brien and Rimington Awards. Over the years, 93 Huskers have earned 106 first-team All-America honors, including 43 consensus selections.

Away from the field, the Nebraska student-athletes have set the bar in academic excellence. Pushing the limits in the classroom, Huskers have accumulated a nation-leading 269 academic All-America awards in all sports, including 139 first-team certificates. The football team has had 55 players receive 68 first-team academic All-America honors. A nation-leading 16 Huskers have also received the Top Eight Award, the highest honor the NCAA can bestow on a student-athlete, including a nation-high nine in the 1990s. The football team is the most decorated program in the country with nine Top Eight selections.

Husker Traditions: Lucky Horseshoe

For as long as anyone can remember, the Huskers have tapped a lucky horseshoe on their way from the locker room to the field. The horseshoe previously hung above the double doors that open into the tunnel outside the South Stadium locker room from 1973 to 2005.

Before 1973, the horseshoe hung above a door near the locker room in Schulte Field House at the north end of the stadium, during Coach Bob Devaney's tenure and probably before. When the team moved to its new air-conditioned quarters, players persuaded Coach Tom Osborne to allow them to relocate the horseshoe. Captains John Dutton and Daryl White hoisted teammate Bob Thornton, who put the horseshoe in place.

Osborne, who had just succeeded Devaney as coach, agreed that the horseshoe should be moved. He wasn't superstitious, he said, but he figured the players didn't want UCLA, the opening-game opponent in 1973, to have the horseshoe's luck. The Cornhuskers won, 40-13.

With the opening of the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex in 2006, the horseshoe moved back to the North end of the stadium. No matter where it has been located, Nebraska's remarkable success has had little to do with luck, of course. But a little good luck never hurt. The Cornhuskers' record at Memorial Stadium since 1973 is 204-27.

One of the most storied programs in college football history, the Nebraska Cornhuskers have brought home five national titles and 43 conference championships since the first team hit the gridiron in 1890. Since then, Nebraska has also added 11 undefeated seasons while amassing 817 all-time victories (entering 2009) to rank fourth in NCAA history. The Huskers have won at least nine games in 36 of the last 40 seasons, including an NCAA-record 33 consecutive nine-win seasons from 1969 to 2001.

NEBRASKA

Husker Traditions: Tunnel Walk

The Tunnel Walk, which began in 1994, has become an integral part of Memorial Stadium's game-day experience. It was created as a way for fans to share in the excitement of the team first emerging from the locker room, something only a limited number could do without the help of HuskerVision cameras and the stadium's big screens – the first of their kind at a facility used solely for college football.

Prior to the Tunnel Walk, with its HuskerVision images and the sounds of the Alan Parsons Project instrumental "Sirius," the cheering didn't begin until the Cornhuskers arrived in the southwest corner of the stadium. Now it begins as soon as they come through the double doors just outside of the locker room.

The experience is as emotional for those who make the walk, the players and coaches, as it is for those who watch and applaud it.

"Of all the fans in America, Nebraska's are the most in-tune with college football, and they have the most respect for the way a college football game should be played."

--Lee Corso, ESPN College Game Day Analyst

NEBRASKA'S HEISMAN TROPHY WINNERS

College football's most prestigious award, the Heisman Memorial Trophy, is presented annually to the nation's outstanding player. The trophy was originally presented in 1935 as the DAC Trophy by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York City. That year, the honor went to the best college football player east of the Mississippi River. In 1936, players across the country became eligible and the award was renamed the Heisman Memorial Trophy to honor former college coach and DAC athletic director John W. Heisman, who died that year.

Three Huskers – Johnny Rodgers in 1972, Mike Rozier in 1983 and Eric Crouch in 2001 – have had the honor of receiving the award, which is voted on by 1,050 voters selected across the country.

In addition to Rodgers, Rozier and Crouch, a pair of Huskers have also finished second in the balloting – Sam Francis in 1936 and Tommie Frazier in 1995 – while 11 other Huskers have placed in the top 10 in their respective years.

Johnny Rodgers won the Heisman Trophy after his senior season when he accounted for more than 2,000 all-purpose yards and 17 touchdowns. He received 1,310 points, easily topping Oklahoma's Greg Pruitt (901) and fellow Husker Rich Glover (652).

Mike Rozier became NU's second Heisman winner after rushing for 2,148 yards and 29 touchdowns as a senior in 1983. Rozier received 1,801 points, finishing ahead of runner-up Steve Young of BYU (1,172) and Doug Flutie (235).

Eric Crouch is the most recent Heisman winner for the Huskers, earning the honor following the 2001 season when he became just the third player in NCAA history to rush for 3,000 yards and pass for 4,000 yards in a career.

goes a long way when you're a kid.

But as kids grow, their wants and needs change, and so does the price. Just think. Right now they may be asking for a lollipop, but soon that dime-store piece of satisfaction will be replaced by the desire to become a doctor, a teacher or an engineer. This will certainly come at a different price. The average cost of tuition at a public university is $6,000 per year. At a private college or university, quadruple that to $24,000. What does this all mean?

Be prepared! Throughout their formative years, as you drop change here and there for small things, just remember to save some of that money for the real treat - college. Give your child every advantage with Nebraska's College Savings Program. With four great investment plans and tax-saving advantages, putting away money for college really can be simple and affordable. Not only will your kids thank you, pretty soon they'll be buying you the Tootsie Roll® Pops... SWEET!

ALL-AMERICA TRADITION

The Nebraska football team has continually seen players nominated — and win — major awards throughout the years, and that has certainly included All-America honorees.

Over the years, 93 former Huskers have earned All-America honors, including 14 players who earned more than one honor. There have been 106 Huskers who have earned first-team awards and 43 consensus All-Americans on the Nebraska sidelines. Those players earned a total of 53 consensus All-America honors.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

The NCAA's Top Eight Award

The highest honor the National Collegiate Athletic Association can bestow on a student-athlete is The Top Eight Award. The award is based not only on outstanding athletic accomplishments, but on excellent academic records and leadership ability in community and campus activities.

In 1998, the University of Nebraska had one of its student-athletes earn the Top Eight Award, as All-America rush end Grant Wistrom was honored at the NCAA honors dinner. Wistrom's selection gave Nebraska nine Top Eight honorees in the 1990s. Two Huskers received the award in both 1990 and 1991, the only times that a school has had more than one student-athlete honored. Nine of Nebraska's Top Eight picks were football players, making the Husker grid program the most decorated in the country.

A two-time first-team academic All-American, Wistrom set the school record for tackles for loss (58.5) and was second with 26.5 career sacks. A two-time Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year, Wistrom was a consensus All-American and won NU's fourth Lombardi Award in 1997. Wistrom joined fellow Top Eight award winners Dave Rimington and Trev Alberts as NFL first-round draft picks, as Wistrom was selected by the St. Louis Rams with the No. 6 pick in the 1998 NFL Draft. Off the field, Wistrom received postgraduate scholarships from the National Football Foundation/College Football Hall of Fame and the NCAA.

In the 1990s, six Husker football players were awarded the Top Eight honor, including Aaron Graham (1996), Rob Zatechka (1995), Trev Alberts (1994), Pat Tyrance (1991) and Jake Young (1990). Nebraska's success in the classroom also extends to other sports, as the Husker volleyball team boasts four winners, including 2008 winner Sarah Pavan, while three NU gymnasts (two men, one woman) have also claimed NCAA Top Eight honors.

Academic All-Americans

The Nebraska football team has a rich history of academic excellence, as evidenced by the team's 63 first-team College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) Academic All-America certificates through the years. Fifty-one players have earned the honor, including 13 who won in multiple years, while 56 of the awards have been won in the past three decades. Four other Huskers were selected to academic All-America squads by groups other than CoSIDA, giving Nebraska a total of 68 first-team academic All-Americans. The Huskers lead the nation with 269 academic All-Americans across all sports.

WINNING EDGE IN ACADEMICS

The success of Nebraska athletes is not limited to the athletic arenas. More Husker student-athletes have been selected to CoSIDA Academic All-America teams than from any other school in the country, and more Huskers have earned academic all-conference honors than athletes from any other league school. NU has led the Big 12 in graduation rates in nine of the league's 13 years.

Academic Facts

» Nebraska has earned the highest number of first-, second- and third-team CoSIDA Academic All-America awards in the nation with 269, 59 more than any other school. Nebraska has seen 139 of those earn first-team honors, including 80 since 1990.

» Husker student-athletes have earned a nation-leading 16 NCAA Today's Top Eight Awards, more than any other school. The football team has nine honorees, the most of any individual sport in the nation.

» NU boasts a 93 percent graduation rate for student-athletes who complete their eligibility.

» In January 2005, Nebraska received awards from the National Consortium for Academics and Sport for community outreach and degree completion.

» Nebraska football has been honored for academic achievement by the AFCA for eight straight years. NU was one of 30 schools to post a 70 percent graduation rate or better in 2007.

» Nebraska student-athletes earned a Big 12-best 172 academic all-conference awards across all sports in 2008-09, including 145 first-team honorees. Nebraska student-athletes also earned a Big 12-leading 626 spots on the Big 12 Commissioner's Academic Honor Rolls.

Sarah Pavan became Nebraska's nation-leading 16th all-time recipient of the NCAA Top Eight Award in 2008. The Top Eight Award represents the highest honor the NCAA can bestow upon a student-athlete.

Since 1890.

The Huskers have gone by many names: Bugeaters, Rattlesnake Boys and Old Gold Knights, to name just a few. But there's only one name you need to know for insurance protection and financial security: Woodmen of the World. Since 1890 – the same year the Huskers started playing football – Woodmen of the World has grown from our headquarters in Omaha. Now nearly 750,000 members across the nation rely on Woodmen of the World every day. For more information on our products and services, or our community events, call 402-289-3776.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

Champions on the Field and in the Community

In a study released in the summer of 2006, Nebraska ranked as the No. 2 state in the nation in volunteerism. The Nebraska football team has played a major role in the volunteer spirit across the state, giving back to the community in many ways.

Husker players mentor youth in local schools, visit children in hospitals and make appearances at events throughout Nebraska. The Huskers play a leading role in the "School is Cool" Celebration and the "Tour of Excellence" which reaches thousands of children across the state with a positive message.

AFCA Good Works Team

Through the years, Nebraska football players have been recognized among the nation's elite on the field as well as in the classroom and community. Since its inception in 1992, the American Football Coaches Association Good Works Team has included 10 Huskers who have earned 11 certificates, a total that leads the nation.

Former Nebraska fullback Dane Todd was the last NU recipient in 2006. Todd was an active member in the Lincoln and Nebraska community. In the classroom, he was twice named a CoSIDA Academic All-American.

The Good Works Team is comprised of two 11-player teams, a Division I-A team and a combined team from Divisions I-AA, II, III and the NAIA. The teams honor players for their dedication and commitment to community service.

NEBRASKA'S WALK-ON TRADITION

"Loyalty. Motivation. Willingness to Sacrifice."

Nebraska Athletic Director Tom Osborne, Hall of Fame Coach from 1973 to 1997, has used those words to describe Nebraska's walk-on program.

The tradition of the Cornhusker walk-on program is one-of-a-kind in college football. Hundreds of young men from towns in all corners of the state have come to Nebraska with big dreams. Many players have excelled beyond their biggest dreams. Osborne and Head Coach Bo Pelini have made a priority of building on the past success of the Husker walk-on program.

Many walk-ons have gone on to earn scholarships at Nebraska, while four earned All-America status and 11 were named CoSIDA Academic All-Americans. The walk-on tradition even carries on to the National Football League, as 27 walk-ons went on to play in the NFL.

GREATEST FANS IN COLLEGE FOOTBALL

Nebraska football fans are perhaps the most loyal in college football. An entire state follows the Huskers, along with an ever-growing national fan base, packing Memorial Stadium for every game since 1962.

Nebraska will celebrate an unprecedented show of fan dedication in 2009, when the sellout streak at Memorial Stadium reaches 300 games. A streak that began on Nov. 3, 1962 against Missouri will hit 300 games on Sept. 26, when the Cornhuskers take on Louisiana-Lafayette. During that streak Nebraska has captured five national championships and 22 conference championships. Nebraska has dropped just 39 home games in the streak's 47 years and the memorable moments at Memorial Stadium in that streak are too many to count.

Husker fans bring their show on the road as well. More than 60,000 red-clad Huskers trekked to Pasadena for the 2002 Rose Bowl, and in 2001, more than 30,000 Huskers swarmed South Bend for a matchup with Notre Dame. In 2006, the Husker Nation again outdid itself as nearly 30,000 Nebraska fans descended on the Coliseum in Los Angeles to watch the Husker contest with USC.

Every entrance at Memorial Stadium welcomes Husker fans with the following phrase: Through these gates pass the Greatest Fans in College Football."

"The crowd was great. This is still the best place to play on the road in the country."

Mack Brown, Texas Head Coach, 2006

"Of all the fans in America, Nebraska's are the most in-tune with college football, and they have the most respect for the way a college football game should be played."

Lee Corso, ESPN College Game Day analyst

"I can't think of a better atmosphere to watch a game than at the "Sea of Red" at Memorial Stadium for a Cornhusker game."

Tim Griffin, ESPN.com

HOME OF CHAMPIONS: MEMORIAL STADIUM

Memorial Stadium has been the home to champions for decades and home to sellout crowds since 1962. The Huskers will celebrate their 300th sellout in 2009, as their NCAA-record sellout streak, which dates back to the 1962 season, stands at 297 straight sellouts entering the season.

On Sept. 27, 2008, Nebraska set a single-game home attendance record with 85,831 fans watching the Huskers battle ACC champion Virginia Tech. Nebraska set a single-season home attendance record in the Huskers' 2001 Rose Bowl season when 622,436 fans attended eight home games (77,804 per game). Following the addition of 6,000 seats to north stadium before the start of the 2006 season, Nebraska averaged a school-record 85,070 fans per game during the Huskers' 5-2 home campaign last season.

The streak of consecutive sellouts started on Nov. 3, 1962, when 36,501 attended the Homecoming contest against Missouri. The last non-sellout came Oct. 20, 1962, when the Huskers and Kansas State drew 30,701.

With renovations for the 2000 season, Memorial Stadium's capacity was reduced by 113 seats to 73,918, which was down from the 74,031-seat capacity in 1999 but up from the 72,700 in 1998. Recent additions of more than 6,000 seats before the 2006 season pushed capacity over 80,000, making Memorial Stadium the third-largest stadium in the Big 12 Conference. With attendance of more than 75,000 fans per game for the past 35 years, NU has ranked among the nation's attendance leaders during that time.

In the fall of 1922, a drive for $430,000 in stadium construction funds was undertaken by faculty, students, alumni and friends of the University of Nebraska. The quota was over-subscribed. The stadium was named Memorial Stadium to honor all Nebraskans who served in the Civil and Spanish-American Wars; the 751 Nebraskans who died in World War I; the 3,839 in World War II; the 225 in Korea; the 422 in Vietnam; and Nebraska's fallen soldiers from the war in Iraq. Construction was completed in a few more than 90 working days and Memorial Stadium was dedicated on Oct. 20, 1923, at the Homecoming game in which Nebraska was held to a scoreless tie by Kansas.

Inscribed on the four corners of the stadium are the following words, written by former UNL professor of philosophy Hartley Burr Alexander (below).

As part of the continuing improvement of athletic facilities at the University of Nebraska, several major projects have been completed throughout the past 85 years enhancing the facility. The $1 million Hewit Center dining/study hall area was opened in March of 1985, underneath the West Stadium adjacent to the massive strength complex. The weight room and the Hewit Center were expanded and remodeled in 1989.

Before the fall of 1994, Nebraska installed two 17 feet high, by 23 feet wide replay boards, now known to Nebraska faithful as HuskerVision screens.

Following the 1997 season, construction began on a $36-million improvement project that was completed during the 1999 season. Included in the improvements were the addition of the Don Bryant Media Facility and 42 skyboxes, each of which house 25 spectators on game day. In addition, club seating rose from approximately 350 to 1,500 per game. The improvement project also tripled the number of restrooms on both the East and West sides of the stadium, doubled the number of concessions in both East and West concourses and included concrete repair and waterproofing throughout the stadium. The 1999 season also saw the introduction of FieldTurf as the playing surface at Memorial Stadium. The renovations raised the capacity of Memorial Stadium from 72,700 to 73,918. It also ensured that the original four inscriptions remained visible.

Construction on the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex began in the summer of 2004 and concluded in the fall of 2006. The complex on the North end of Memorial Stadium includes a football locker room, weight room and athletic medicine facilities, coaches offices for the football staff, as well as athletic department offices.

In 2006 the two old HuskerVision replay boards were replaced and situated on the South end of the stadium, while another larger screen measuring 33-feet 7 3/16-inches high by 117-feet 7 1/8-inches wide was added on the North end as part of the Osborne Athletic Complex. The project also provided Nebraska with a second indoor workout facility in the Hawks Championship Center. Two new smaller video boards and ribbon boards were installed this past summer.

True Home-Field Advantage

For the past 84 years, Nebraska football teams have gladly called Memorial Stadium home with an impressive 362-110-13 (.760) record posted by the Huskers in their home since it was opened in 1923. Over the past 20 years, Nebraska owns 125 wins on its home field.

Under the Lights

Nebraska's first night football game was Nov. 30, 1951, at Miami's Orange Bowl when the Huskers lost to the Miami Hurricanes, 19-7. Ironically, NU's first night football game at home was the 1986 opener against another team from the "Sunshine State," Florida State. Nebraska is 62-24-3 all time under the lights, including 22-5 at home.

Southeast Corner Inscription:

"In Commendation of the men of Nebraska who served and fell in the Nations Wars."

Southwest Corner Inscription:

"Not the victory but the action; Not the goal but the game; In the deed the glory."

Northwest Corner Inscription:

"Courage; Generosity; Fairness; Honor; In these are the true awards of manly sport."

Northeast Corner Inscription:

"Their Lives they held their countrys trust; They kept its faith; They died its heroes."

NEBRASKA'S BOWL HISTORY

Nebraska has earned 45 bowl berths all-time to rank fifth in college football history (23-22 record). The Huskers' record of 35 consecutive bowls ranks first in the nation. NU played in a bowl game every season from 1969 to 2003 and owned a 19-16 record in that span.

Between 1982 and 1998, the Huskers played in an NCAA-record 17 straight "Major Bowls" in January, where they won seven times. Nebraska has also won nine of its last 13 bowl games.

The Huskers have squared off against a top-ranked team in a bowl game four times, most recently the 2002 Rose Bowl loss to Miami. Fourteen of Nebraska's last 21 bowl opponents have been ranked in the top five at game time.

The Huskers have won five national championships, including three in the 1990s. Nebraska's run between 1993 and 1997 was one of the most amazing streaks in college football history, as NU earned a 60-3 record with outright national titles in 1994 and 1995. In 1997, the Huskers capped the run with their third title in four years, splitting with Michigan.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP HISTORY

Few college athletic programs can boast the national championship resume of Nebraska football. Since 1970, Nebraska has captured five national championships, and played for a national title in a bowl game on four other occasions. The Huskers are one of only three college football teams to win five national championships since 1970, and one of only seven to capture at least three titles.

Coach Tom Osborne won 255 games in his illustrious career, including three national championships. The College Football Hall of Fame waived the normal three-year waiting period to induct Osborne immediately after he retired following his team's national championship in the 1998 Orange Bowl.

1970 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS (11-0-1)

Early in the 1970 season, Jerry Murtaugh predicted Nebraska would win the national championship. Murtaugh was a senior linebacker and co-captain who, in just three seasons, set the Cornhusker career record for tackles. That mark stood for more than 30 years before being broken in 2004.

It was obvious that Murtaugh was capable of backing up whatever he said, and Murtaugh and the Huskers provided plenty of support for his statement on the field. Nebraska had been 9-2 the previous season, winning its final seven games, including a decisive 45-6 victory against Georgia in the Sun Bowl.

After the Sun Bowl game, Georgia coach Vince Dooley said the Cornhuskers hadn't belonged in El Paso, Texas. They deserved better competition than his team could provide.

Still, 1970 was a new season. And though Nebraska had several starters returning on offense, Murtaugh was one of only three defensive starters returning. Dave Walline and Jim Anderson were the others.

Besides, winning a national championship wasn't something over which a team had complete control. It would depend not only on being successful, but also on the votes of writers and broadcasters in Both Texas and Ohio State would have to lose, and the Cornhuskers would have to win. But it happened.

Notre Dame upset Texas 24-11, and Stanford staged a fourth-quarter comeback to defeat Ohio State 27-17. Nebraska learned of the latter result during the Orange Bowl's pregame warmups.

The Cornhuskers appeared ready to seize their opportunity, jumping ahead of LSU 10-0 in the first 13 minutes of the Orange Bowl. But the Tigers controlled the ball during the second and third quarters, scoring on a 31-yard pass on the final play of the third quarter to take a 12-10 lead.

Nebraska responded by driving 67 yards for the winning touchdown, scored by Tagge from one yard away with 8:50 remaining. Junior linebacker Bob Terrio, a junior college transfer who had arrived at Nebraska as a fullback, preserved the victory by intercepting a Bert Jones pass with 45 seconds left.

Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian argued that his team should be the AP champion because it had defeated No. 1 Texas. But NU was a decisive No. 1 in the final AP poll. "I was afraid Ara's comments might influence the voters, but I guess the writers are too smart to take some coach's word," Cornhusker Coach Bob Devaney said. "The writers knew who was best."

Nebraska also received an endorsement from President Richard Nixon, who proclaimed NU No. 1, to the delight of 8,000 fans at the NU Coliseum, on Jan. 14, 1971. Murtaugh and fullback Dan Schneiss, NU's co-captains, joined Devaney with Nixon.

It was just as Murtaugh had predicted.

the Associated Press poll or of selected coaches in the United Press International poll.

Two games into the season, Murtaugh's brash prediction became a longshot, at best. After opening with a 36-12 victory against Wake Forest, the ninth-ranked Cornhuskers played Southern California to a 21-21 tie at the LA Coliseum. The Trojans tied the score with 8:16 remaining, after a failed 12-yard field goal attempt, resulting from a poor center snap, kept Nebraska from putting the game away.

"We should have won the game," Johnny Rodgers said years later.

Rodgers was a sophomore in 1970, his first varsity season.

A tie at USC was certainly no disgrace. Coach John McKay's team was ranked No. 3. Nebraska even moved up in the next week's Associated Press poll. But No. 8 was still a long way from No. 1.

And the Cornhuskers' record had a blemish, no matter how slight.

Nebraska returned to Memorial Stadium to defeat Army 28-0 the next week, beginning what would be a 23-game winning streak and include not one but two national championships.

NU rolled through the Big Eight, moving up to No. 3 in the AP rankings after a 51-13 victory against No. 20 Kansas State in the next-to-last game of the regular season. Nebraska intercepted Wildcat quarterback Lynn Dickey a school-record seven times, and Cornhusker back Joe Orduna rushed for 105 yards and four touchdowns against what had been the conference's best defense.

Orduna, a senior who sat out the 1969 season as a medical redshirt, led Nebraska in rushing in 1970.

A week later, the Cornhuskers won the Big Eight championship outright by defeating Oklahoma 28-21 at Memorial Stadium. Though unranked, the young Sooners could have earned a share of the conference title with a victory. Nebraska had to come from behind twice during the game. Junior quarterback Jerry Tagge scored the winning touchdown, capping a 53-yard drive, with 7:42 remaining.

Nebraska finished 10-0-1, its first undefeated regular season since 1965, and ranked No. 3 in both wire service polls, behind two unbeaten and untied teams: No. 1 Texas and No. 2 Ohio State. The UPI didn't conduct a poll after bowl games, so Texas was its national champion for 1970.

The Cornhuskers were matched against No. 5 LSU in the Orange Bowl game on New Year's night. Texas played Notre Dame, which had been No. 1 until a late-season loss to USC, in a rematch of the previous year's Cotton Bowl. And Ohio State drew Stanford in the Rose Bowl.

Nebraska's hopes of earning the AP version of the national championship were slim.

Husker quarterback Jerry Tagge stretches the ball over the goal line for the winning touchdown in the Orange Bowl victory over Louisiana State.

1971 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS (13-0)

Nebraska's 1971 season came down to a single game at Owen Field in Norman, Okla., on Thanksgiving Day. At least, that's how it is most often remembered. The No. 1 Cornhuskers played No. 2 Oklahoma in what still is regularly regarded as college football's "Game of the Century."

The teams were undefeated and untied, and they included 17 of 22 first-team All-Big Eight players. Nebraska had the nation's top-ranked defense. Oklahoma had its most productive offense.

The cover of Sports Illustrated (Nov. 22, 1971) published the week of the game included photographs of Nebraska linebacker Bob Terrio and Oklahoma running back Greg Pruitt, nose-to-nose, beneath the headline: "Irresistible Oklahoma Meets Immovable Nebraska."

on Nebraska's 35-31 victory, deflecting a Jack Mildren fourth-down pass with barely a minute left.

Except for the Oklahoma game, Nebraska was never seriously challenged in its quest to repeat as national champion. The Cornhuskers overwhelmed 12 other opponents, including Alabama in the Orange Bowl, to earn a place among the best teams in college football history.

Coach Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide went to Miami undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2. The Tide left a 38-6 loser, providing proper payback for Nebraska's 39-28 and 34-7 bowl losses to Alabama following the 1965 and 1966 seasons. The first of those losses, in the 1966 Orange Bowl game, cost Coach Bob Devaney's Cornhuskers a perfect season and probably a national championship.

Although Nebraska averaged what was then a school-record 437.7 yards on offense, including a Big Eight-leading 179.3 yards passing, and ranked third nationally in scoring, averaging 39.1 points per game, it was defense that set apart the Cornhuskers — as the Sports Illustrated headline pointed out.

Nebraska ranked second in the nation in rushing defense (85.9 ypg), third in scoring defense (8.2 ppg) and fifth in total defense (202.9 ypg). The Blackshirts included seven first-team All-Big Eight selections, four players who would earn consensus All-America recognition during their careers and two Outland Trophy winners: Glover and tackle Larry Jacobson. Glover would win both the Outland and Lombardi awards in 1972. They were joined in the starting lineup by junior end Willie Harper, like Glover, a two-time All-American.

John Dutton, an All-American in 1973, was a sophomore backup.

Besides Glover, Jacobson and Harper, the other first-team all-conference defenders were Terrio, Jim Anderson, Bill Kosch and Joe Blahak. Anderson, Kosch and Blahak played in the secondary.

Anderson and Tagge, one of five Cornhuskers on the All-Big Eight first-team offense, were the captains. Both were from West High School in Green Bay, Wis., as was starting monster back Dave Mason, a junior who had sat out the 1970 season as a medical redshirt.

The other first-team offensive players were Rodgers, Kinney, Carl Johnson and Dick Rupert.

The Cornhusker defense was opportunistic as well as immovable, contributing to a school-record plus-26 turnovers. Nebraska recovered 20 opponent fumbles and intercepted 27 passes.

Nebraska was No. 2 in the Associated Press preseason rankings but moved to No. 1 after opening with a 34-7 victory against Oregon at Memorial Stadium. Bobby Moore, now known as Ahmad Rashad, scored the Ducks' lone touchdown with just over three minutes remaining in the game.

Only three opponents scored more than one touchdown against the Cornhuskers. Oklahoma State and Kansas State each managed two touchdowns, and Oklahoma, of course, scored four. The only time all season that Nebraska even trailed during a game was against the Sooners.

The Cornhuskers opened conference play with back-to-back shutouts against Missouri (36-0) and Kansas (55-0), during a stretch in which they posted 12 consecutive scoreless quarters.

In addition to everything else, the Cornhuskers almost always had good field position because of the punt and kickoff returns of Rodgers, a key to their success, according to Tom Osborne, an assistant who designed and coordinated the offense.

"As great as that team was, take Johnny Rodgers out of there on kickoff and punt returns, and it probably wouldn't have gone 13-0," Osborne said.

Nebraska extended its winning streak to 23 games and its unbeaten streak to 32 games in 1971. Repeating as national champions "wasn't automatic," Rodgers said.

But going into the season, "we were pretty doggone confident."

Wingback Johnny Rodgers was a key to the Huskers' national title run in 1971 and won the Heisman Trophy in 1972.

1994 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS (13-0)

Byron Bennett's 45-yard field goal attempt sailed wide left in the final second of Nebraska's 18-16 loss to Florida State in the 1994 Orange Bowl game. With that miss, an 11-game Cornhusker winning streak ended. And the run to Coach Tom Osborne's first national championship began.

Nebraska's focus for the 1994 season was finishing the business that had been left incomplete on the night of Jan. 1, 1994, in Miami. The actual process started with a 31-0 victory against West Virginia in the Kickoff Classic in late August, and it concluded with a come-from-behind, 24-17 victory against Miami, on the Hurricanes' home field, in the 1995 Orange Bowl game. To a degree, that game characterized the season.

An important subplot of 1994 involved the Cornhusker quarterbacks. Junior Tommie Frazier, a two-year starter, opened the season as if he might run away with the Heisman Trophy before being sidelined by blood clot problems in his right knee after the fourth game.

Frazier's misfortune represented an opportunity for junior Brook Berringer, who came off the bench to lead Nebraska to the Big Eight championship and the Orange Bowl game. Berringer was 7-0 as a starter, passing for 1,295 yards and 10 touchdowns, in what amounted to only eight full games. He threw just three passes in the first three games.

When Berringer was slowed by a partially collapsed lung, a problem that occurred in back-to-back games, sophomore walk-on Matt Turman stepped up and directed the Cornhuskers. Although Berringer had been cleared to play, Turman gained a 7-6 lead against Kansas State at Manhattan that ended 17-6.

Turman had come on to replace Berringer the previous week, directing Nebraska to 23 second-half points in a 32-3 victory against Oklahoma State in the Cornhuskers' Big Eight opener.

The quarterback sequence was somewhat similar in the Orange Bowl victory. Frazier, who had been included on the travel roster for the final regular-season game at Oklahoma (but did not play), started against Miami. Berringer replaced him and got Nebraska on the scoreboard in the second quarter, with a 19-yard touchdown pass to tight end Mark Gilman. Then Frazier returned to finish it and earn game MVP honors.

Nebraska trailed the Hurricanes 10-7 at halftime and fell behind 17-7 less than two minutes into the third quarter. But during the intermission, Osborne had described to the Cornhuskers the way the second half would go if they maintained their composure and continued to play smart physical Husker football. They did.

Afterward, Osborne's halftime speech was made public. It was eerily prophetic.

Even though Nebraska finished its business by going 13-0, it remained for voters in the Associated Press and USA Today/CNN polls to certify the Cornhuskers as national champions. Penn State also went through the season undefeated and untied at 12-0. The Nittany Lions argued to no avail.

Nebraska began the season ranked No. 4 by the Associated Press, moved to No. 1 after the Kickoff Classic, then inexplicably dropped to No. 2 following a 42-16 victory at Texas Tech. Sophomore safety Mike Minter suffered a season-ending knee injury during the game televised by ESPN.

In many ways, Minter was to the defense what Frazier was to the offense. His loss was significant; a fact underscored during an unexpectedly close, 42-32 victory against pass-happy Wyoming.

The Cornhuskers dropped to No. 3 in the AP poll after the Kansas State victory, before finally moving to No. 1 following the Colorado game. The Buffaloes came to Lincoln undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2 by the AP and No. 3 by USA Today/CNN. Nebraska was No. 2 according to the coaches. The Cornhuskers remained No. 2 in the USA Today/CNN rankings another week, before ascending to the top spot on the strength of a 45-17 victory over Kansas, despite a Penn State victory against Indiana.

Nebraska earned the voters' respect with an offense that featured one of the best lines in school history and a new 4-3 defense that allowed only 55 points in conference play. Led by linebacker Ed Stewart, a consensus All-American, the Cornhuskers ranked second in the nation in scoring defense, fourth in total defense and rushing defense and 10th in pass defense.

The offensive line included Outland Trophy winner Zach Wiegert at tackle. Along with winning the Outland, Wiegert was a consensus first-team All-American. His linemate Brenden Stai earned All-America honors of his own at guard.

Rob Zatechka, the other tackle, was a three-time CoSIDA Academic All-America selection who graduated with a perfect 4.0 grade-point average in biological sciences. Along with Joel Wilks, the other guard, and center Aaron Graham, the only non-senior among the starters, the group was nicknamed the "Pipeline."

Nebraska led the nation in rushing, with sophomore Lawrence Phillips gaining 1,722 yards, the third-highest single-season total in Cornhusker history. He finished eighth in the Heisman Trophy voting.

Phillips, Graham, Wiegert and Stai all earned first-team all-conference honors on offense.

Stewart, Troy Dumas, Donta Jones, Barron Miles and Tyrone Williams represented the defense on the All-Big Eight first team. Stewart, Wiegert, Zatechka and Terry Connealy were the Husker captains.

A crowd estimated at 14,000 to 15,000 stood in line and braved frigid temperatures for an opportunity to cheer the Cornhuskers at the Bob Devaney Sports Center on their return from Miami.

"We didn't just win this for ourselves, we won this for the whole state of Nebraska," Connealy said.

1995 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS (12-0)

Tom Osborne's 23rd Nebraska team was arguably his best. The 1995 Cornhuskers were among the best in college football history.

Though such a sweeping assertion cannot be proven, it can be supported. Nebraska's 1995 national championship team was No. 1 on a list of the top major college teams since 1956. The list was compiled by computer analyst Jeff Sagarin, whose rankings are regularly published in USA Today.

The 1971 Cornhuskers were No. 2 according to Sagarin's power ratings. Both were well ahead of the other teams on the list, which also includes the 1997, 1972 and 1970 Huskers among the top 26.

Nebraska was never seriously challenged in 1995, as it extended a school-record winning streak to 25 games and repeated as national champion — something that has been accomplished only eight other times since the Associated Press initiated its national college football rankings in 1936.

The closest any opponent could come to the Cornhuskers was 14 points. But even that was deceptive. Washington State trailed Nebraska 28-7 after three quarters, in the fifth game of the season. The Cornhuskers scored 20 points in the second quarter to overcome a 7-0 first quarter deficit.

After that, the outcome was never in serious doubt. The final score was 35-21.

Nebraska, which began the season ranked No. 2 by the Associated Press, didn't move to No. 1 until back-to-back victories against No. 8 Kansas State (49-25) and No. 7 Colorado (44-21). After completing a third consecutive undefeated and untied regular season and winning a fifth consecutive Big Eight championship, including four in a row outright, the Cornhuskers eliminated any doubt about their claim to a second consecutive national title by overwhelming No. 2 Florida, 62-24, in the Fiesta Bowl.

Despite the Cornhuskers' success, the 1995 season was one of mixed emotions, resulting from much-publicized off-the-field problems.

"It was a terrible year, and it was a great year," Osborne said after the Fiesta Bowl. "It was taxing. On the other hand, it was very gratifying to work with a group of players who had the kind of focus and drive to carry them through. That was the redeeming factor."

"There were times I was running on empty. I take my spiritual life very seriously. I relied on my faith more than I ever have. I was grateful for the sustaining strength that was there."

The star-crossed nature of the 1995 team was further underscored in the spring, when Brook Berringer, a quarterback who had just completed his eligibility, died in the crash of a light plane.

Osborne again had to turn to his faith to handle the tragedy.

"The Brook I knew, there was nothing he could have done better," Osborne said. "The length (of his life) was not what you would have liked. But the quality couldn't have been better."

Berringer, who had stepped in for an injured Tommie Frazier during the 1994 national championship season, accepted his role without complaint and contributed as a proven backup in 1995.

Frazier, fully recovered from the blood clot problems that sidelined him much of his junior season, set the Husker career record for total offense (5,476) and touchdowns produced (79), which were later broken by 2001 Heisman Trophy winner Eric Crouch. Frazier earned All-America recognition, finished second to Ohio State's Eddie George in balloting for the Heisman and received the most valuable player award in the Fiesta Bowl game.

Frazier, whose record in four years as a starter was 33-3, established himself among the best quarterbacks in Cornhusker history.

"I would say if I were to choose one player who has had the most impact on the outcome of the greatest number of games over the longest period of time since I've been at Nebraska, it would be Tommie Frazier," said Osborne, who began as a graduate assistant in 1962.

Under Frazier's direction, Nebraska's offense was even more productive than that of the "Scoring Explosion" team in 1983. The Cornhuskers ranked No. 1 in the nation in both rushing (399.8) and scoring (52.4) and No. 2 in total offense (556.3). The 1983 team was slightly better rushing the ball, averaging a school-record 401.7 yards, but it averaged slightly fewer points (52.0) and total yards (546.7).

Ahman Green, who began fall camp down the list on the depth chart, became the starting I-back and broke the school rushing record for a freshman. He gained 1,086 yards and scored 12 touchdowns.

Green would have broken the school scoring record for a freshman were it not for Kris Brown, the place-kicker. Brown, like Green a true freshman, scored 97 points — a school record for kicking.

In addition to Frazier, center Aaron Graham and rush end Jared Tomich earned first-team All-America honors. Graham also was a Cornhusker co-captain, along with tight end Mark Gilman, defensive tackle Christian Peter, safety Tony Veland and linebacker Phil Ellis.

Tomich, a junior who originally walked on, was among five Blackshirts who received first-team all-conference recognition. The other defensive players were Peter, linebacker Terrell Farley, rush end Grant Wistrom and cornerback Tyrone Williams. Frazier and Graham were joined on the All-Big Eight first-team offense by Green, tackle Eric Anderson and guards Chris Dishman and Aaron Taylor.

Rarely has college football seen such a team. Maybe never.

Tommie Frazier directed Nebraska to back-to-back national titles, capped by a spectacular 1996 Fiesta Bowl performance.

1997 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS (13-0)

A pajama-clad Tom Osborne was packing for home in the early morning hours of Jan. 3, 1998, when he heard the news.

"By that time, I was wrung out enough that there wasn't much emotion left," he would say later that morning during a post-Orange Bowl game news conference.

His response to the news was typically low-key.

"Naturally, I was very pleased, very gratified," he said.

The source of his pleasure had been the announcement on ESPN — the television set in his room at the Sheraton Bal Harbour on Miami Beach had been tuned to the network "by chance," he said — that his 25th and final team had been voted the USA Today/ESPN Coaches national champion.

The Huskers, No. 2 going into the Orange Bowl game, had squeezed ahead of Michigan in the coaches poll on the strength of a 42-17 victory against No. 3 Tennessee.

The Wolverines retained the top spot in the Associated Press media poll.

"Being a coach, I know a little bit how they think," said Osborne, who was among those with a vote in the USA Today/ESPN poll. "They probably looked at the fact we were 13-0, and to be unrewarded in some way would be . . . I don't mean to say an injustice. But it wouldn't be a good thing."

No major college football team has gone 13-0 and been deprived of a national title. On the other hand, Michigan argued, no No. 1 team had ever won its bowl game and been dropped from the top.

The split title seemed a reasonable solution. That was Cornhusker quarterback Scott Frost's point immediately after the decisive victory against Tennessee.

"I can't see how any coach outside of the Big Ten or Pac-10 would vote for Michigan because if somebody from North Carolina, Florida State, wherever it might be, Notre Dame, coaches from there, if they were undefeated and won the Alliance bowl game, they would expect to share the national title," the senior from Wood River, Neb., said on the field, in front of CBS television cameras.

"It's been split before. It's OK to split it. It should be split."

Frost was well-versed on national championship history. The title had been split nine times previously since the coaches poll was established in 1950, most recently in 1990 and 1991.

Nebraska's first national championship in 1970 was split with Texas.

Cornhusker defensive tackle Jason Peter was less sharing than Frost.

"If you ask me, I don't think it should be a split title," he said after the Orange Bowl game. "I mean, we proved today that we're the best team in the country, without a doubt."

There probably wouldn't have been much doubt in anyone's mind had it not been for Nebraska's dramatic 45-38 overtime victory at Missouri in early November. The Cornhuskers traveled to Columbia with the No. 1 ranking in both polls but returned to Lincoln ranked No. 4.

That same weekend, Michigan went from No. 4 to No. 1 on the strength of a 34-8 victory against No. 2 Penn State, and Florida State, which subsequently lost to Florida, went from No. 3 to No. 2.

Michigan might have slammed the door on Nebraska's national championship aspirations with a more decisive victory against Washington State in the Rose Bowl game, but the door was open "at least a crack," Osborne told his team after it watched the Wolverines win 21-16 on New Year's Day.

Coaching the Cornhuskers to a third national championship in four seasons was a fitting conclusion to Osborne's Hall of Fame career. The National Football Foundation waived its three-year waiting period for induction, allowing Osborne to be enshrined alongside the game's greatest coaches without delay.

Nebraska became only the second major college football program since the Associated Press began ranking teams in 1936 to earn three national titles in four seasons. Notre Dame won titles in 1946, 1947 and 1949.

Peter and rush end Grant Wistrom, the Lombardi Award winner and two-time Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year, were the heart and soul of Nebraska's 1997 national champions.

"Those two guys, among some others, ramrodded that football team," Osborne said. "They decided a year ago they were going to come back and get the thing done. Their leadership was invaluable."

Peter and Wistrom earned All-America honors, as did offensive guard Aaron Taylor, the first Cornhusker to be named an All-American at two positions. He played center in 1996. Taylor was voted the Outland Trophy winner, with Peter being one of two runners-up.

Frost and I-back Ahman Green were among other key players on offense. Frost became only the 10th player in major college history to rush for 1,000 yards and pass for 1,000 yards in the same season, finishing with 1,095 and 1,237, respectively. Frost's 2,332 yards of total offense were one short of the Nebraska single-season record, set by Jerry Tagge in 1971.

Green rushed for 1,877 yards, which ranked second in the nation. His yards also placed him second on the Cornhuskers' all-time single-season list, behind 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier's 2,148 yards.

Every Cornhusker, from freshman Matt Davison, whose touchdown catch of a deflected Frost pass on the final play of regulation against Missouri kept the title hopes alive, to scout team players such as senior Doug Seaman, contributed in varying degrees to Nebraska's fifth national title.

The 1997 national championship team was "somewhere in between" the 1994 and 1995 national championship teams, according to Osborne. It was "probably a little more talented than '94, certainly not near as controversial as '95. That was nice," he said. "So it was just kind of a nice way to go."

"Great leadership on the part of the players, and I didn't have to do much."

He was being overly modest, of course. The record will attest to that.

Ahman Green rushed for an Orange Bowl record 206 yards, as Nebraska defeated Tennessee, 42-17, in the 1998 Orange Bowl. The victory gave Nebraska its third national title in the 1990s.

Some of the greatest names in college football coaching have been associated with the Huskers. Six Husker coaches have been inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame, including Fielding Yost (above, left), Dana X. Bible (above, right), Bob Devaney and Tom Osborne. Although not a Hall of Famer, E.O. "Jumbo" Stiehm (above, center) owns the best winning percentage for any Nebraska football coach, as his teams won 91.3 percent (35-2-3) of their games over five years.

Tom Osborne (left) and Bob Devaney (right) combined to lead Nebraska to five national titles and 28 consecutive nine-win seasons from 1970 to 1997.

HUSKERS IN THE NFL

Nebraska owns one of the most impressive histories of any school with players in the National Football League. Nearly 300 former Huskers have represented Nebraska in the NFL. Since the start of the Big 12 in 1996, Nebraska has led all Big 12 schools with 59 players chosen during the NFL Draft. No other conference school has had more than 46 players chosen in that period. The Huskers have been especially impressive with defensive players, with 44 chosen in the last 14 years. No other Big 12 school has more than 30.

Last season, Nebraska had 32 former players on NFL rosters including 12 players with four or more years of experience.

Husker NFL Facts

Nebraska had three players selected in the 2009 NFL Draft. Over the last 13 years, Nebraska has averaged nearly five players chosen in each NFL Draft for a Big 12-leading total of 62 drafted players.

The 2009 NFL Draft marked the 40th consecutive year the Huskers had at least three players chosen in the draft.

Since 1962 NU has had 275 players drafted, an average of nearly six selections per year, including an amazing 49 Husker offensive linemen.

Since 1990, Nebraska has had 22 defensive backs, 20 linebackers, 17 defensive linemen, 16 offensive linemen, 11 running backs, eight wide receivers, five quarterbacks and three kicker/punters chosen in the NFL Draft.

Since 1998, Nebraska has had 13 defensive linemen drafted and five defensive ends drafted in the first or second rounds. Nebraska leads the nation with four former kickers (two place-kickers, two punters) who will be on NFL rosters for the 2009 season.

Three Huskers Selected in 2009 NFL Draft

Three Nebraska players were selected on day two of the 2009 National Football League Draft. Linebacker Cody Glenn was the first Husker selected in round five, followed by offensive linemen Matt Slauson and Lydon Murtha. At least six other Huskers also agreed to free-agent contracts as of the day after the draft.

Glenn was selected with the 158th overall pick in the fifth round by the Washington Redskins. Glenn played the first three seasons of his Nebraska career at running back before switching to linebacker prior to the 2008 campaign. Glenn played in nine games as a senior and finished with 51 tackles, including six tackles for loss. In his first three seasons, the 6-0, 235-pounder rushed for 579 yards and 14 touchdowns from the I-back position.

Slauson was the second Husker taken on day two of the draft, going to the New York Jets with the 193rd overall pick in round six. Slauson was a mainstay of the Nebraska offensive line over the past four seasons. The 6-5, 320-pound Slauson played in 48 games, with 35 starts, including all 13 games at right guard in 2008. His play helped Nebraska rank among the nation's top 15 offenses each of the past two seasons, and Slauson was a second-team All-Big 12 pick during his senior year.

Murtha was the third and final Husker chosen on the draft's final day, when the Detroit Lions made him the 228th overall selection in the seventh round. Murtha joined Slauson in forming a strong right side of the Nebraska offensive line. Murtha battled through an injury-plagued senior season to start nine games at right tackle. In his career the 6-7, 315-pound Murtha played in 40 contests with 23 starts. Murtha earned honorable-mention All-Big 12 honors for his play each of the past two seasons.

The selection of Glenn, Slauson and Murtha marked the 40th straight season Nebraska has had at least three players chosen in the NFL Draft.

Adam Carriker became the highest drafted Husker since 1998, when he was selected 13th overall in the first round of the 2007 NFL Draft by the St. Louis Rams.

*First player chosen. Chosen in supplemental draft.

Former Carolina Panther Mike Rucker was one of three Huskers – along with teammate Mike Minter and New England's Russ Hochstein – to play in the Super Bowl in 2004.

Josh Brown kicked a 58-yard field goal for the Seattle Seahawks as a rookie in 2003, tying for the ninth-longest field goal in NFL history. Brown has 16 field goals of at least 50 yards in his first six years in the league, including six in 2008 with the St. Louis Rams, when Brown finished with 31 made field goals, good for fifth in the league.

HUSKERS IN THE NFL

Kris Brown, the all-time leading scorer at Nebraska, has been a place-kicker in the NFL since 1999, kicking for the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Houston Texans.

Huskers in the NFL Hall of Fame

Guy Chamberlin
End/Coach
1920-27

A legend at Nebraska, Guy Chamberlin became the premier end of the NFL in the 1920s. He was a player-coach on four NFL championship teams (1922-24, 1926). His six-year coaching record was 56-14-5 (.780).

William (Roy) Lyman
Defensive Tackle
1922-34

Roy Lyman pioneered a more sophisticated defensive play with a shifting, sliding style. He starred on four title teams (1922-23, 1924, 1933), and played on one losing team in 16 seasons of college and professional football.

Bob Brown
Offensive Guard
1964-73

An All-American at Nebraska, Bob Brown went on to a 10-year career in the NFL, spending five seasons with Philadelphia, three with the Los Angeles Rams and two with the Oakland Raiders. Brown was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2004.

Cory Schlesinger is one of 26 former Huskers to play at least 10 years in the NFL.

Mike Brown was a key player for the Chicago Bears from 2000 to 2008, picking off 14 passes with four returns for touchdowns. Brown will play for Kansas City in 2009.

Mike Minter (1997-2006) is the Carolina Panthers' all-time leading tackler.

Ahman Green has rushed for more than 9,000 yards in his 11-year NFL career.

NEBRASKA'S RETIRED JERSEYS

Following the 1949 season, the N Club voted to retire jersey No. 60 in honor of Tom "Train Wreck" Novak's stellar career with the Cornhuskers. Novak, the first Nebraska player to earn this honor, had been a four-time All-Big Seven choice and a 1949 All-American.

All major national award winners at Nebraska automatically have their jerseys retired, but their numbers will still be available to active Huskers.

Nebraska's group of 16 players with retired jerseys certainly ranks among the best in the nation. The list of Huskers who have earned the distinction of jersey retirement currently includes:

Heisman Trophy winners (3)

Johnny Rodgers, Mike Rozier, Eric Crouch

Outland Trophy winners (7)

Dave Rimington (twice), Larry Jacobson, Rich Glover, Dean Steinkuhler, Will Shields, Zach Wiegert, Aaron Taylor

Lombardi Award winners (4)

Rich Glover, Dave Rimington, Dean Steinkuhler, Grant Wistrom

Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award winner

Tommie Frazier

Davey O'Brien Award winner

Eric Crouch

Butkus Award winner

Trev Alberts

Rimington Trophy winner

Dominic Raiola

Nebraska's Retired Numbers

No. 60 (Tom Novak) and No. 64 (Bob Brown)

For 55 years, Tom Novak was the only Nebraska player to have the distinction of a retired number. In 2004, that finally changed as College and Pro Football Hall of Famer Bob Brown's No. 64 joined Novak's hallowed No. 60 as the only permanently retired numbers at Nebraska. Brown, whose jersey retirement ceremony occurred during Nebraska's game with Colorado in 2004, became the 16th player in Husker history to have his jersey retired.

In 2004, Bob Brown joined Guy Chamberlin as the only former Huskers to be enshrined in both the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame and the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

HUSKER ALL-CENTURY TEAM

Nebraska's run of success in the 1990s capped a century of conference and national championships, award-winning players and Hall of Fame coaches in the Husker football program.

Hundreds of great players called Lincoln home in the 20th century, making the selection of a Husker All-Century team a difficult task. Nebraska fans did their best to identify the best of the best from the 1999 football season through April of 2000. The team was selected through an on-line poll at Huskers.com and nearly 10,000 Husker fans took part in the process.

The team is dominated by players from the Huskers' five national championship squads. Linebacker Tom Novak, Nebraska's only four-time all-conference selection, was the lone player chosen who played before the Devaney era. The overall top vote getter was Johnny Rodgers, who received a total of 14,467 votes at two positions (receiver and kick returner). The 1972 Heisman Trophy winner is joined by a star-studded offensive unit that features backs Mike Rozier and Roger Craig, fullbacks Joel Makovicka and Tom Rathman, wingback Irving Fryar and tight end Junior Miller. The offense is guided by quarterback Tommie Frazier, who led the Huskers to back-to-back national championships in 1994 and 1995. Frazier won the Johnny Unitas Award as the nation's top quarterback as a senior and had a career record of 33-3 as Nebraska's starting QB. The offensive line features five Outland Trophy winners, including two-time recipient Dave Rimington. Fellow Outland winners Will Shields, Aaron Taylor, Zach Wiegert and Dean Steinkuhler, along with All-American Bob Newton, join Rimington on the offensive front. Wiegert was the top vote-getter on offense, with nearly 8,000 votes.

The defense is led by a talent-laden front line, all first-round NFL Draft picks. Defensive tackles Jason Peter and Neil Smith and middle guard Rich Glover comprise the interior of the all-time Husker defense while pass rushing specialists Grant Wistrom, Trev Alberts and Broderick Thomas man the outside positions of the defensive line. A pair of run-stoppers join Novak on the linebacker corps, as Marc Munford and Ed Stewart were selected by Husker fans. Munford led Nebraska in tackles for three consecutive seasons (1984-86), while Stewart was a finalist for the Butkus Award in 1994. The secondary is made up of players from the 1990s, including 1999 All-Americans Mike Brown and Ralph Brown, the top vote getters at safety and cornerback, respectively. The duo is joined by cornerback Michael Booker and rover Mike Minter, a pair of defensive standouts on Nebraska's 1994 and 1995 national title teams. Wistrom was the top vote getter among defensive players with almost 7,000 votes cast.

Kris Brown was chosen as the starting kicker after he set the school record with 388 points from 1995 to 1998. Jesse Kosch earned the nod as NU's top punter, and the final member of the team is kick returner Tyrone Hughes.

STUDENT LIFE COMPLEX

Honor the Past...Invest in the Future

"On behalf of our student-athletes and staff, I would like to thank Husker fans for their generous contributions toward our new Student Life Complex. We appreciate that Nebraska fans see the value in investing in the well-rounded development of our student-athletes."

Tom Osborne
Athletic Director

The new $10.5 million Nebraska Student Life Complex will nearly triple the size of the academic space available for current Husker student-athletes by using the current space in the Hewit Center for Student-Athletes and the area formerly occupied by the West Stadium weight room.

Since the Hewit Center was built in 1985, the number of Husker student-athletes across all sports has increased from approximately 400 to more than 600, creating the need for expansion in size and services.

Athletic Director Tom Osborne's vision is to better serve student-athletes with academic counselors and supervisors, as well as expanding the Huskers' award-winning Life Skills program.

The Nebraska Student Life Complex will include an impressive entrance, along with Academics, Life Skills, Enrichment, Technology and Compliance centers, in addition to the Training Table.

Thanks to generous support from former student-athletes, donors and fans, fundraising for the project was completed in March of 2009. Construction on phase one of the complex began in July of 2009 and the entire project is scheduled to be completed in September of 2010.

Nebraska Student-Athlete Achievements

- Nation-leading 269 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans
- Nation-leading 16 NCAA Today's Top Eight Award winners
- Big 12-leading 93 percent graduation rate
- Award-winning Life Skills program reaches more than 100,000 youth in Nebraska each year.

"We are pleased to complete this project that is so crucial to the total-person development of our student-athletes."

Paul Meyers
Associate Athletic Director for Athletic Development

NEBRASKA SCHOLARSHIPS

The Devaney Society

Achieving greatness in both the classroom and on the playing field has long been a goal of the University of Nebraska. Our nation-leading 269 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans and 24 team national titles reflect the manner in which we strive to achieve to the highest level.

Rising costs have made funding these athletic scholarships increasingly difficult. To help offset the expenses, the University of Nebraska established an athletic scholarship endowment fund to honor Hall of Fame Football Coach Bob Devaney. For his tenacious commitment to hard work and success, we honor Coach Devaney with our commitment to establish an endowment to fund athletic scholarships at the University of Nebraska. We are sincerely grateful to those who committed to our future stability by establishing a Devaney Society Scholarship for male or female student-athletes.

Nebraska's "Defensive Coordinator for Oral Health"

Preventive care is key to defending your oral health. That's been our game plan for more than 20 years.

As your hometown team, we offer comprehensive dental plans for groups of 5+. Our strong networks – the largest in Nebraska and nationally – help you control costs and give employees the broadest access to dentists.

Get your mouth in the game. Call us at 1-800-736-0710 or visit www.deltadentalne.org.

The Coaches Challenge

Nebraska's youth need you to join the team!

The TeamMates Mentoring Program is a one-to-one, school-based mentoring program that serves 4,000 youth in 112 communities across Nebraska and Iowa. Mentors give one hour per week to make what is called the "one hour difference" in the lives of youth.

It's easy to join:

1. Complete an application
2. Attend a mentor training
3. Meet Your Mentee

NEBRASKA WHEEL CLUB MEMBERS

Automobile dealers in Nebraska and Iowa contribute to the University of Nebraska athletic program through the loan of courtesy cars. Like other booster group activities, this project enables the Nebraska Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds. These sports-minded dealers around the state have earned a debt of gratitude from the University of Nebraska Athletic Department and are an important part of the "Husker team."

Nebraska lands top recruits

Recruiting for the University of Nebraska has been on a roll over the past few years:

- Enrollment last fall was the highest in a decade.
- Freshman ACT scores were the highest ever.
- More of Nebraska's top high school seniors are choosing NU.
- UNL has the most Academic All-Americans in the nation.

Help keep the momentum going by contributing to the University of Nebraska.

THE UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA-LINCOLN

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln is the primary research and doctoral degree-granting institution in Nebraska. As Nebraska's land-grant university, it serves as the flagship institution of the University of Nebraska system. Officially chartered Feb. 15, 1869, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln grew quickly to become one of the nation's leading state universities. With a proud tradition of excellence in research and creative activity, the University of Nebraska was one of the pioneers in research and graduate studies, being the first university west of the Mississippi to form a graduate school and to offer the Ph.D. In 1909, the University of Nebraska became the 18th member of the Association of American Universities.

Today UNL ranks among the top 50 institutions awarding the most doctoral degrees. It is a major research university, ranked in the top 25 among public universities for total endowment assets and new gifts. It is home to top researchers in such areas as plant genomics, remote sensing technologies, molecular virology, bioinformatics, food processing and nanoscale technology.

Consistent with its role as the state's comprehensive institution, UNL offers 242 undergraduate programs, 131 graduate programs and three professional programs. Approximately 23,000 students are enrolled at UNL, representing all 93 of Nebraska's counties along with students from all 50 states, the District of Columbia and more than 80 foreign countries.

The university comprises eight undergraduate colleges, including Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources, Architecture, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education and Human Sciences, Engineering, Hixson-Lied College of Fine and Performing Arts, and Journalism and Mass Communications. It also has a division of graduate studies and the College of Law.

UNL is implementing a new Achievement-Centered Education program that embodies the ideals of a liberal arts education. The program acquaints all undergraduates with basic research tools and the global human context, and introduces them to an array of academic subject areas. It emphasizes strong written and oral communication skills and critical thinking. A co-curricular component encourages student leadership and involvement in campus activities and in the wider community.

Among the newest buildings on campus is the June and Paul Schorr III Center for Computer Science and Engineering, housed in the former South Stadium office complex. The building was donated to the university by the Nebraska Athletic Department. The Ken Morrison Life Sciences Research Center, dedicated in August 2008, houses laboratories and offices for the Nebraska Center for Virology. The Jeffrey S. Raikes School of Computer Science and Management is a signature honors education program. The Carson School of Theatre and Film honors famed alumnus Johnny Carson.

Faculty members at UNL have earned wide recognition as scholars and scientists. Professor of English Ted Kooser is a Pulitzer-prize winning poet and was the U.S. Poet Laureate (2004-06). James Van Eten, professor of plant pathology at UNL, is a member of the National Academy of Sciences. English professor Ken Price is creating an internationally significant Web-based archive of the works of Walt Whitman. Geoscientist David Harwood is leading an international team of scientists drilling beneath the Antarctic ice to recover sedimentary cores to reveal information about Antarctica's climate history and about the global climate machine. Nebraska Center for Virology Director Charles Wood is learning how HIV transmits from infected mothers to children in Zambia.

The new multi-million-dollar Diocles Extreme Light Laboratory and physicist Donald Umstadter are putting UNL at the forefront of international high-field physics and laser research. Diocles will enable UNL physicists to create extreme conditions in the laboratory, similar to those at the core of the sun, to study matter and energy in new ways. Another team of UNL physicists has played a significant role in the development of the Large Hadron Collider. The largest physics experiment in history, it was scheduled to go online in August near Geneva, Switzerland.

The university reaches thousands of citizens across the state each year through outreach activities. The UNL Extension Division provides all Nebraskans with information and assistance in agriculture and natural resources, home economics, family living, 4-H and community resource development. An extensive Extended Education and Outreach program offers alternatives to formal on-campus education with Internet courses, summer reading courses, evening classes, independent study by correspondence, telecourses and study tours.

A number of specialized centers offer assistance to the state's citizens. The Food Processing Center has helped hundreds of businesses with everything from product development to marketing, and Technology Development expedites university-developed knowledge into real-world products and processes.

The campus is home to the renowned Sheldon Museum of Art, the Christlieb Collection of Western Art, the Robert Hillestad Textiles Gallery, the Lentz Center for Asian Culture and several other museums, including the University of Nebraska State Museum of natural history which boasts a world-class fossil collection. In spring 2008, the university opened the International Quilt Study Center and Museum. The facility displays the largest publicly held collection of historic quilts and is supports research into quilts and quiltmakers.

Among the university's renowned alumni are naturalist and author Loren Eiseley; Nobel prize-winners George Beadle, Donald Cram and Alan Heeger; artists Aaron Douglas and Weldon Kees; investor Warren Buffett; comedian Johnny Carson; singer Barbara Hendricks; artist and engineer Harold Edgerton; military officer John J. Pershing; and authors Willa Cather and Mari Sandoz.

NEW HUBBARD BARN EXPANDS DISCOVERY AT ASHFALL

By Troy Fedderson, University Communications

It all started in Idaho, some 12 million years ago.

A volcanic blast in the southwest portion of what would become the Potato State spewed forth a blanket of ash that covered a large area – including the flat, savannah-like grasslands of Nebraska, southern South Dakota and northern Kansas.

Many of the animals around a waterhole in northeast Nebraska survived the initial ash fall. However, as they ingested the ash while grazing, their lungs began to fill with the powdered glass.

Animals with smaller lung capacities – birds and turtles – went first. As the ash covered those carcasses, smaller-hoofed animals, horses and llama-sized camels, died. Then, with six more inches of ash layering over the dead, barrel-bodied rhinos standing in ash-saturated water succumbed.

Through the whole process, scavengers feasted on the dead and dying.

Paleontologists estimate the gruesome death of a life-giving watering hole took just three to five weeks.

"It would have been a miserable, horrible scene," said Mike Voorhies, emeritus professor of geosciences.

But time converted the horror into a one-of-a-kind scientific jewel.

As part of a study into the geology and paleontology of the Verdigre valley, Voorhies made the first discovery on Melvin Cohlson's Antelope County farm in 1971. With his wife working alongside, Voorhies was routinely searching a hillside stripped of soil by recent torrential rains. He brushed away a bit of ash and uncovered a little skull.

"I started on the oversized teeth and worked my way farther back, looking for evidence that the skeleton might be there," Voorhies said. "It was just like the old song, 'The head bone connected to the neck bone, the neck bone connected to the back bone....'"

That first intact rhino led to the discovery of additional full skeletons in the hill and surrounding area.

The find has led to numerous digs on the site – including one funded and covered by National Geographic – with more than 200 fossil skeletons from 12 species of Clarendonian Age land mammal unearthed.

Today, Ashfall Fossil Beds State Historical Park – a National Natural Landmark as designated by the U.S. Department of the Interior – remains a place of scientific discovery.

A $1.2 million donation by the Theodore F. and Claire M. Hubbard Family Foundation of Omaha is increasing the scope of discovery at Ashfall.

The funds have been used to replace a small "rhino barn" that was built to protect the exposed fossils – which researchers decided to leave in the ground to showcase the unique nature of the dig site.

"The whole point of Ashfall Park is to give the public a firsthand view of a real paleontology site, which is actively being excavated," said Voorhies. "The skeletons in the ash are so fragile that we can't uncover them out in the weather. One rainstorm would be enough to completely destroy these unique, one-of-a-kind fossils."

Built in 1991, the original rhino barn was 2,000 square feet and allowed for 11 years of dig seasons. Voorhies, other paleontologists, students and volunteers dug right to the edges of the old barn.

A full skeleton of a rhino rests unearthed in the Hubbard Rhino Barn at Ashfall Fossil Beds. Visitors can watch digs at the Royal site from June through August.

The new Hubbard Rhino Barn has expanded that dig site eight times, covering 17,500 square feet. It is temperature controlled to help preserve the fossils during the cold winter months and will allow for many decades of excavation, research and education.

The new facility was dedicated June 19.

The construction of the site itself has led to Ashfall's latest unique discovery – the first fossilized snake uncovered in the ash. Since it would have been covered by the building's footing, the snake was removed for further study.

Rick Otto, superintendent for Ashfall Fossil Beds, said additional work on the snake would take place this year.

The find was not a surprise to Voorhies.

"It's my belief that there are still plenty of surprises in the ground here," said Voorhies.

The Hubbard Rhino Barn is also helping expand education on the site.

The new barn encompasses a hill that showcases the sedimentary layers researchers removed to reach the fossils.

The hill was previously outside the actual dig site. Now that the hill is inside, Voorhies said visitors can see how the waterhole fossils were buried over time.

Voorhies also plans to dig into a portion of that hill, showcasing a more recent fossil record.

Ashfall – which Voorhies said is not the most interesting thing he found during his study of the Verdigre valley – is now Voorhies' retirement gig. The self-described "oldest living Ashfall volunteer" plans to continue leading the dig, talking with visitors and helping expand the understanding of what happened in what became a miserable waterhole 12 million years ago.

"This new building is going to allow 40 years of excavation here at Ashfall," Voorhies said. "This is the one place in the world where you can stand and see whole, three-dimensional skeletons of large animals preserved in volcanic ash. It's really something unusual to have turned up at the edge of a cornfield."

"And, I like the idea that it is going to remain right here. It's not going to be hauled off to some seaport in the east. It will be here, in Antelope County, Nebraska, forever."

The new building covers 17,500 square-feet – eight times larger than the one it replaces – and allows for the discovery and protection of many more fossils and enhances the experiences for visitors to the unique park.

COMPLIANCE GUIDELINES FOR FANS

The University of Nebraska Athletic Department takes great pride in abiding by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the Big 12 Conference rules and guidelines that govern Division I competition. For the benefit of the many alumni, fans and booster club members who are so active in supporting and assisting the Huskers throughout the year, we would like to remind everyone of a few definitions and rules that apply to all athletic representatives and boosters.

NCAA Principles Institutional Control

It is the responsibility of the University of Nebraska to control its intercollegiate athletic program in compliance with the rules and regulations of the NCAA.

Responsibility

The University of Nebraska's responsibility for the conduct of its program includes responsibility for the actions of its staff members and for the actions of any other individual, booster or organization engaged in activities promoting the athletic interests of the institution.

Compliance

The University of Nebraska must monitor its program to assure compliance and to identify and report to the NCAA instances in which compliance has not been achieved. An institution found to have violated NCAA rules is subject to disciplinary and corrective actions as determined by the NCAA.

Question and Answers for Fans, Boosters, Alumni and Representatives of Athletic Interests

Definitions

Q: What is a booster?

A: Someone who belongs to a University of Nebraska athletic booster club; promotes or makes financial donations to the athletic department or a specific Husker team; assists in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes; employs, gives benefits to, or provides services to a student-athlete, a prospective student-athlete or the relative/friends of either.

REPRESENTATIVE OF ATHLETIC INTERESTS (I.E., BOOSTERS), NCAA BYLAW 13

Q: What is a Prospective Student-Athlete?

A: A prospective student-athlete is a student who has started classes for the ninth grade or above, including students in prep schools and junior colleges as well as students who have officially withdrawn from a four-year institution and plan to transfer to another institution. In addition, a student who has not started classes for the ninth grade becomes a prospective student-athlete if the institution or a Nebraska booster provides the individual or the individual's relatives or friends with any financial assistance or benefits that the institution does not provide to prospective students in general. A good rule of thumb is to treat ALL STUDENTS as prospects.

Q: What is a Student-Athlete?

A: A student-athlete is a student whose enrollment was solicited by a member of the Nebraska athletic staff or other representative of athletic interests with a view toward the student's ultimate participation in the intercollegiate athletic program.

Q: What is a contact?

A: Contact is ANY face-to-face encounter between a prospect, or the prospect's parent or legal guardian, and a Nebraska staff member or athletic representative during which any dialogue occurs.

Q: What is recruiting?

A: Recruiting is any solicitation of a prospect or a prospect's family member (or guardian) by an institutional staff member or by athletic representative of the institution, for the purpose of securing the prospect's enrollment and ultimate participation in Nebraska's intercollegiate athletic program.

Guidelines

Q: What is a Booster?

A: Someone who belongs to a University of Nebraska athletic booster club; promotes or makes financial donations to the athletic department or a specific Husker team; assists in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes; employs, gives benefits to, or provides services to a student-athlete, a prospective student-athlete or the relative/friends of either.

REPRESENTATIVE OF ATHLETIC INTERESTS (I.E., BOOSTERS), NCAA BYLAW 13

Q: What constitutes impermissible contact by a Booster?

A: Phone calls to prospects (9th to 12th grade) and their relatives placed for recruiting purposes (questions about the athletic program at UNL must be directed to the coach); writing, paging, text messages or instant messages to a prospect to encourage UNL attendance; contact with a prospect at a high school or club contest; contact with a prospect or his/her coach, principal, or counselor to evaluate the prospect; visiting the prospect's educational institution to pick up videotape or transcripts for evaluation purposes; contacting a prospect to congratulate him/her for signing a National Letter of Intent to attend UNL; giving anything of value to a prospect to induce him/her to attend UNL; contact of any kind while the prospect is on the UNL campus for an official or unofficial visit.

RECRUITING CONTACTS, NCAA BYLAW 13

Q: What are the rules of employment for a student-athlete?

A: A student-athlete may be employed during the academic year or summer vacation period; receive compensation equal to the going rate for similar services in the locale; receive compensation only for work performed; accept employment from more than one employer and earn unlimited income; receive benefits provided to all other employees; teach sport-related individual skill instruction or fee-for-lesson sessions. A student-athlete may not conduct personal sport camps or promote, market, advertise or endorse a commercial business or product.

Only benefits that are authorized by NCAA legislation shall be provided to and accepted by a student-athlete. It is not permissible for a student-athlete to receive a benefit that is the result of a "special" arrangement by an institutional employee, booster, employer or fan.

EMPLOYMENT, NCAA BYLAW 12

Q: What are non-permissible benefits?

A: Free or reduced-fee housing/rent including the use of vacation or seasonal homes; free or reduced-fee meals; loans or cash advances in pay or salary; tuition costs or school supply expenses; gifts or presents of any type regardless of the occasion or purpose; use of telephone for long distance or use of telephone cards and cell phones; free use of any motor vehicle, boat or recreational vehicle; free use of services (i.e., automobile repair, hair care, laundry, copying, faxing, etc.); free or reduced-fee memberships at golf courses, health clubs, etc. (This list is not exhaustive. Only benefits that are authorized by NCAA legislation shall be provided to and accepted by a student-athlete. It is not permissible for a student-athlete to receive a benefit that is the result of a "special" arrangement by an institutional employee, booster, employer or fan.)

BENEFITS AND PREFERENTIAL TREATMENT, NCAA BYLAW 16

Q: What type of promotional activities may the student-athlete be permitted to participate?

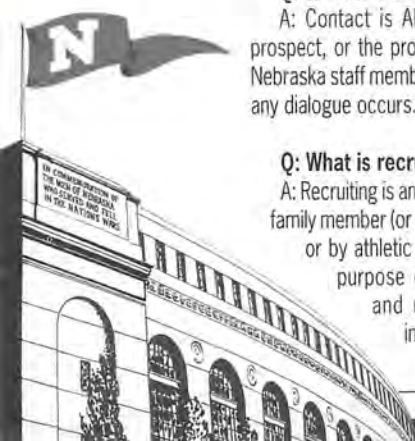

A: Charitable, educational or non-profit promotions and events with requested approval from the Athletic Compliance Office prior to the event.

Q: What types of promotional activities are not permissible?

A: Any fundraising activity that supports a high school organization or group that assists prospective-aged students; use of his/her name or picture; or appear to promote or market a commercial business or product.

PROMOTIONAL ACTIVITIES, NCAA BYLAW 12

2009 Big 12 Championship Game

The 2009 Dr. Pepper Big 12 Football Championship returns to Texas on Dec. 5. The last time the game was in Texas was 2007, when Oklahoma downed Missouri at the Alamodome in San Antonio. The 14th edition of the battle for the league title will be played in the new Cowboys Stadium in Arlington, the first time in league history the game will be played in Arlington.

Oklahoma has won the most Big 12 title games with six championships. Nebraska and Texas are the only other squads to win multiple crowns with two each, while Kansas State, Colorado and Texas A&M have one apiece. The Sooners have the most title game appearances with seven, followed by Texas, Nebraska and Colorado with four each.

The winner of the Dr. Pepper Big 12 Championship Game earns the league's automatic berth into the Bowl Championship Series.

Do you have what it takes?

Now is your chance to find out.

The only way to find out if you have what it takes to be a part of the UNL Band program is to audition. In many cases, you don't have to be a music major to be in the band. Audition dates for the Wind Ensemble, Symphonic Band, Campus Band, Big Red Express, Jazz Ensemble I & II, and the Cornhusker Marching Band are right around the corner. Schedule your audition and join the fun.

WIND ENSEMBLE: There are no membership restrictions based on degree program. Auditions are scheduled during the first week of classes in the fall, and again in December.

SYMPHONIC BAND: As with all the bands, music majors and non-majors are encouraged to audition. Auditions for Symphonic Band and Wind Ensemble happen concurrently.

CAMPUS BANDS: Campus Band Section 001 meets Tuesdays while Section 002 meets Thursdays. Both bands perform on a single concert and no audition is required. Just register for the class.

BIG RED EXPRESS: Candidates for the Big Red Express will audition during the first week of classes in August.

CORNHUSKER MARCHING BAND: Candidates for the woodwind, brass and percussion sections must complete a two-part audition process. Marching Band auditions will begin in April.

JAZZ ENSEMBLES I AND II: Membership in Jazz Ensemble I and Jazz Ensemble II is determined by audition each semester. Music majors, as well as non-majors, are encouraged to try out. Auditions are scheduled for the first week of classes.

Detailed information about auditioning can be found at www.unl.edu/band, or call the Band Office at 402/472-2505.

LIBERO BANWARTH CONTROLLING THE COURT

By Shamus McKnight, Nebraska Media Relations

While it is easy to recognize a libero on the court with her different colored jersey, the contributions she makes are often overlooked by most casual volleyball observers. It is a position that is defined by limitations, but for Nebraska Coach John Cook, the opportunities that Kayla Banwarth can have on a match are limitless.

"A lot of people look at that spot as just passers or servers, but Kayla has the ability to impact nearly every play on the court for us," Cook said. "Other than (All-American setter) Sydney (Anderson), she touches the ball more than any other player, and that is a big responsibility."

Banwarth is in her third season as the Huskers' starting libero, a position that may be one of the most demanding on the court. Not only does she handle a majority of the Huskers' passing duties in serve-receive and keep rallies alive with her defensive handiwork, Banwarth also coordinates the team's backline defense on the fly.

It is a role similar to a middle linebacker who not only has to have the range and athleticism to cover from sideline to sideline, but also the communication skills to help put teammates in the best position to make plays.

"I don't think people realize how much communication goes on during a play," Banwarth said. "Things are always changing, and it's part of my role on the court to help control our defense and to make sure everyone is on the right page."

Banwarth, who was an outside hitter and setter in high school, said that becoming more vocal was her biggest obstacle to playing that spot.

"I'm naturally shy, and I think I said about two words the first six months I was here," Banwarth said. "A libero can't be quiet on the court and to be the player I wanted to be, I needed to be more vocal. It was a big step outside my comfort zone, but it was something I needed to do to reach my potential."

"The key for me was building relationships with my teammates and getting to know the girls better," Banwarth said. "Once I started doing that and getting more comfortable with them off the court, it became easier to become more vocal on the court. I think I went from a two or three (on a scale of 1-10) as a freshman to more of a seven or eight now, but I want to keep challenging myself to get better in that area."

Banwarth is putting together her best season in 2009. Entering conference play last week, she ranked second in the league in digs, averaging 4.59 digs per set and was second on the team in both assists (42) and service aces (6). More importantly, she is the team's best passer and a main reason why NU had allowed a league-low 0.65 service aces per set through the first nine matches.

Banwarth has been spectacular at times, recording a career-high 32 digs in the Huskers' five-set win over No. 11 Minnesota at the Runza/AVCA Showcase. That total was the most by a Husker libero since the position was created in 2002, and the most by any Husker since 1993. The following weekend, she was the defensive MVP of the LSU Tiger Classic, collecting 54 digs in three wins while also holding Nebraska's opponents to a .054 hitting percentage.

Cook has seen Banwarth mature into not only an outstanding defender over the past three years, but into one of the leaders for a youthful Husker squad with seven freshmen on the roster. He believes that she has the potential to be one of the best liberos in the country.

"I look at her now, she's controlling the court, and that's what you want out of a great libero," Cook said. "We've seen a lot of liberos do that to us. Now, we have a libero who's doing it for us."

Husker fans saw Banwarth do just that in last year's regional final at Washington, when she collected a team-high 22 digs and added career highs in both assists (5) and aces (3). Banwarth showed her mettle in the final two sets against the Huskies, ending the fourth set with an ace before a memorable fifth set. With NU trailing 9-4, Banwarth's ace started a run of eight straight Husker points on her serve, helping Nebraska regain the lead in one of the most memorable matches in program history that gave NU a spot in the NCAA semifinals in Omaha.

Banwarth has also put the time in off the court to become one of the best all-around athletes in the program. She now ranks fifth all-time in the Performance Index (2,313 points) and holds the school mark for the fastest pro-agility time (4.29 seconds). That work has allowed her to become an even better volleyball player.

"Since freshman year, I feel like I've just gradually gotten stronger and quicker and faster," said Banwarth, whose 476 digs last year ranked third in program history, while her 4.12 digs per set ranked fourth in the Big 12.

If Banwarth keeps improving as she has during the first half of her career, her coaches believe she has the potential to do something that no other Husker libero has done – become an AVCA All-American.

"I'll go on record as saying that Kayla is as good as any libero in the country, if not the best," Cook said. "That is saying a lot, but I believe Kayla is up to the challenge."

And that would be fitting recognition for one of the Huskers' unsung heroes.

Kayla Banwarth and the eighth-ranked Huskers were off to a 9-2 start this season following a 3-0 sweep at Colorado on Sept. 19.

HUSKERVISION ENHANCES FAN EXPERIENCE

Fifteen years ago, the idea of Memorial Stadium becoming the nation's first college football stadium to have big-screen replay boards was being considered. Some people doubted that a college venue could make a project that big a reality, and they wondered if the screens would detract from the game itself.

However, when HuskerVision became a reality in 1994, all of the proposal's critics were silenced. The big-screen replay boards were an instant hit with the fans, enhancing their Husker game day experience.

With its replay boards, the University of Nebraska became the first college football team in the country to have instant replay boards at a venue used exclusively for college athletics. The only other college stadiums that previously had boards available were those serving as homes to professional football teams.

NU took another step forward during the summer of 2006 with the replacement of the 12-year old video boards with three new screens, including a 33-foot 7 3/16-inch high by 117-foot 7 1/8-inch wide video board atop the new Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex that is one of the largest in any college stadium in the United States. The two smaller screens on the South end of Memorial Stadium each measure approximately 21-feet high by 24-feet wide and are larger than the old screens.

This past summer, two more smaller screens were installed on the North end of the stadium, along with ribbon boards on the east and west sides. But the biggest improvement HuskerVision made last summer was a complete conversion to HDTV. All five video screens will broadcast in crystal-clear HD for the first time in 2009.

In addition to the obvious advantage of being able to view replays, game action and statistics on three huge screens, HuskerVision has made several other changes to game day at Memorial Stadium.

The most important change was in atmosphere. The screens are a key ingredient to one of the most dramatic team entrances in all of sports. Along with a 30,000-watt sound system, the replay boards help make the "Tunnel Walk" part of the atmosphere of Nebraska football.

HuskerVision's contributions to Memorial Stadium have not gone unnoticed by Nebraska fans. In a survey of season ticket holders, fans mentioned HuskerVision as one of the most worthwhile additions to Memorial Stadium in years.

Like the NU football team, the HuskerVision crew spends the week before a home game developing its own game plan. Starting on Sunday before a home game, the crew produces features for Saturday's game and spends much of the week preparing graphics, player headshots and other clips and features that appear on the boards throughout the game.

Game day is showtime for the HuskerVision crew. On a home Saturday, a dozen staff members work in the control room while five other members of the staff operate cameras on the field. The HuskerVision staff includes Creative Director Kirk Hartman, Chief Engineer Scott Guthrie, Production Coordinator Kelly Mosier and Production Specialists Mike Hodges, Brad Colee, Amanda Pohlmann and Chris Pankonin. HuskerVision also utilizes the talents of 35 University of Nebraska broadcast journalism students throughout the year. Assistant Athletic Director for HuskerVision Shot Kleen oversees the HuskerVision department.

HuskerVision is housed in the Michael Grace Production Studio located on the concourse level of West Stadium, which was made possible by a generous donation from Lloyd and Katherine Wilson in honor of former football player and NU Foundation fund-raiser Michael Grace. In addition, a broadcast quality control room, three non-linear editing rooms and a television production studio allow the HuskerVision staff to produce a multitude of video productions.

Last year, HuskerVision produced several television shows, including coaches shows for football, men's and women's basketball, volleyball and baseball.

This season, the Bank of the West Coach Pelini Show will be produced after each game for a statewide broadcast on Sunday nights. In addition, The Husker Volleyball Show will also be aired during the fall. During the basketball season, The Doc Sadler and Connie Yori basketball shows will be broadcast on a state-wide basis, while The Mike Anderson baseball show will air in the spring. Both the Pelini and Sadler shows will air nationally (Fox Sports Midwest) throughout the week. Features on all of Nebraska's 23 varsity programs are part of many of these coaches shows.

HuskerVision's duties also include the production of highlight tapes for all 23 varsity sports. Over the past decade, more than 100,000 highlight tapes have been purchased by NU football fans. In 2002, HuskerVision received two major awards at the IDEA conference, one for "Best Overall Video Display" in the University division and one for "Best Music Video", beating out entries from all levels, including the NBA, NFL and Major League Baseball. The HuskerVision staff earned best display for a second time in three years in 2004, and earned "Best Special Occasion Video" for its season-ending music video for the baseball team.

In 2000, HuskerVision expanded to the Bob Devaney Sports Center. Giant replay boards were installed on the East and West upper ends of the Devaney Center and are nearly the same size in terms of square footage as the original smaller screens in Memorial Stadium. The Devaney screens are among the largest indoor boards in the country at 15-feet high and 26-feet wide. The screens are also compatible with HDTV wide-screen format and are part of a 162-foot wide display system on each end of the Devaney Center.

The HuskerVision control room in Memorial Stadium is also used to produce the programming seen on the big screens at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. This is made possible by incorporating a fiber optic network used to send and receive audio and video signals between the two locations.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR TOM OSBORNE

A Hall of Fame football coach returned to his roots on Oct. 16, 2007, to become the 13th athletic director at the University of Nebraska. Tom Osborne accepted the position at the time because, Osborne said, "Harvey Perlman asked me."

Perlman, UNL's chancellor, asked Osborne to lead the program where he had served so productively as head football coach. Two months later, on Dec. 20, 2007, he announced that the word "interim" had been removed from Osborne's title. In June 2009, he announced that Osborne would remain in the athletic director position for the foreseeable future.

"Tom originally agreed to come in temporarily and get the department moving in the right direction. He clearly accomplished that. I believe he now feels comfortable serving on an ongoing basis and I certainly feel comfortable having him do so," Perlman said. Osborne has repeatedly stated his preference to head the athletic department until two of his biggest projects – the Life Skills Center and a new basketball practice facility – are fully funded and the buildings are completed.

Holder of master's and doctorate degrees from the University of Nebraska in educational psychology, Osborne said he probably would not have considered coaching if he had not met Bob Devaney, who convinced him to become a volunteer graduate assistant on his staff.

"Bob epitomized the value of loyalty, and I will always be grateful for the confidence he showed in me," Osborne said. "Because of his leadership and empowerment as a coach and an athletic director, I was fortunate to serve 25 years as head coach."

Devaney put Osborne in charge of the offense that won two national titles and allowed him to concentrate on three areas he thought were important – a strong academic program for student-athletes, a strength and conditioning program and a more formalized program to attract walk-on players.

Each area has grown into an important asset for all 23 Nebraska sports programs, which Osborne now oversees. Within months of his appointment, Osborne quietly re-established an athletic department mission based on five core values – integrity, trust, respect, teamwork and loyalty.

Under Osborne's leadership, the Husker bowling team brought home Nebraska's 24th all-time national championship in 2009, while the volleyball squad won another Big 12 title and advanced to the NCAA semifinals. Across the board, Husker programs have started an upward trend in the Big 12 and national standings the past two years and head into 2009-10 riding a wave of success.

In the classroom, Husker student-athletes found stellar academic success in 2008-09, the first full year with Osborne at the helm. Nebraska had six academic All-Americans, bringing its nation-leading total to 269, while also setting a conference record with 172 academic All-Big 12 selections across all sports.

Since retiring from football in 1997, Osborne has found several ways to stay active in his home state. His most visible post-coaching foray came in the political arena, as he served three terms in the U.S. House of Representatives from Nebraska's 3rd congressional district from 2000 to 2006. He also made a gubernatorial bid in 2006 before turning to academia.

A native of Hastings, Neb., Osborne served as a senior lecturer at Nebraska in the College of Business Administration, teaching leadership and business ethics, in the fall of 2007. Osborne also worked as a consultant for local college athletic departments for two years.

"I've spent the majority of my life working with the athletic department at the university and I want to do what I can at this point to continue in the pursuit of excellence that has been previously established," Osborne said.

Osborne has also poured time and effort into building a unique mentoring program within the state. The TeamMates program, founded by Tom and his wife, Nancy, in 1991, provides support and encouragement to school-aged youth with the goal of seeing children graduate from high school and pursue a post-secondary education.

Osborne still actively provides leadership in the college football ranks despite being away from the sideline for a decade. He is currently a voter on the coaches poll for the Master Coaches Poll.

While he may hold a key position that molds the future of Nebraska Athletics, many will always remember Osborne for his legendary service to the program as a football coach.

Osborne was named Nebraska's 25th head coach following the 1972 season and worked the sideline for 25 years. Under Osborne's direction, the program achieved remarkable success, exceeding any in its rich history. The Cornhuskers mounted a 255-49-3 record under Osborne, good for a winning percentage of .836. The 255 victories are sixth-most all-time among major college football coaches while the winning percentage ranks fifth all-time.

His achievements were so highly regarded that the National Football Foundation waived its three-year waiting period so that he could be inducted into its Hall of Fame in December of 1998. He is one of only four coaches in history to have the mandatory three-year waiting period waived.

Osborne's coaching career came to a poetic end in the 1998 Orange Bowl. In his final game, the Huskers defeated No. 3 Tennessee, 42-17, giving him a share of a third national title in his final four seasons. The victory left Osborne as the first coach in college football history to retire as a reigning national champion, along with the nation's best active winning percentage.

Osborne guided the Huskers to back-to-back titles in 1994 and 1995, then capped his career by sharing the 1997 title with Michigan. Under Osborne, NU became just the second school all time and the first since Oklahoma in 1955-56 to post back-to-back perfect national championship seasons. Osborne's last five Nebraska teams put together the best five-year run in collegiate football history with an amazing 60-3 record, including five consecutive 11-win seasons.

Osborne-coached Nebraska teams captured 13 conference crowns, including six of his last seven seasons on the sideline. All 25 of his Husker teams won at least nine games and went to a bowl, while 15 won 10-or-more games.

In the classroom, the Husker football program totaled 65 CoSIDA Academic All-America awards in Osborne's 25 years. To put Osborne's dedication to developing complete student-athletes in perspective, he accumulated more football Academic All-Americans in his 25 years as coach than any other football program in the nation has produced in its history.

Prior to becoming head coach, Osborne spent five seasons under Devaney, helping the Huskers win back-to-back national championships in 1970 and 1971. In 1973, Osborne succeeded Devaney, who also served as Nebraska's Athletic Director from 1967 to 1993.

Osborne and his wife, Nancy, have three adult children, Mike, Ann and Suzanne and four grandchildren.

Nebraska Spirit Squad

The Nebraska Spirit Squad's involvement in the community and the athletic department makes it one of the most high-profile programs in the nation. Members of the Spirit Squad include Cheer Squad, Scarlets (dance team) and Lil' Red and Herbie Husker (mascots).

The Spirit Squad consists of 18 Cheer Squad members, 14 Scarlets and five mascots. Along with academics and athletic events, Spirit Squad members participate in conditioning workouts, practices and team meetings about 10 hours per week. Last year, the squad made more than 200 philanthropic appearances at community and state events.

Tryouts for the Spirit Squad are held during the spring semester. For more information on the Spirit Squad or to learn about tryouts, visit Huskers.com or call Marlon Lozano, Spirit Squad Manager, at (402) 472-4622.

Hail Varsity

Hail to the team,
The stadium rings as everyone sings,
The scarlet and cream.
Cheer on for victory
Echo your loyalty,
So on mighty men,
The eyes of the land,
Upon every hand are looking at you.
Fight on to victory,
Hail the men of Nebraska U.

There is No Place Like Nebraska

There is no place like Nebraska,
Dear old Nebraska U,
Where the girls are the fairest,
The boys are the squarest,
Of any old place that you knew.
There is no place like Nebraska,
Where they're all true blue,
We'll all stick together in all kinds of weather,
For dear old Nebraska U.

LEGENDARY HUSKER RECRUITS: NEIL SMITH

Nebraska 'Found' Louisiana Native

By Randy York

Neil Smith is 43 now, but he remembers a certain January morning nearly 25 years ago like it was yesterday.

A college freshman when he woke up that morning, Smith looked out his dorm room window and was astonished.

"I opened the curtains and saw something I'd never seen before in my life...snow," Smith recalled. "I looked beyond the Harper-Schramm-Smith dorms. Everything was just blanketed in a deep, white snow. The parking lots, the train tracks...everything."

It was a blizzard, Smith thought to himself. That means no classes and no meetings.

"I was excited just thinking about going back to sleep, so I did," he said.

A few hours later, there was a rather loud knock on his dorm door.

Smith opened it to see Tom Osborne standing there, and his head coach was not smiling.

"Neil, if you're not going to class and if you're not going to meetings, you're at the wrong university," Smith remembers Osborne saying. "Make sure you make it to my office...today."

Close Encounter of the Last Time

Smith may have shared the freshman team lead in tackles that year with close friend Lawrence Pete, but he found himself at a crossroads just a few months into his career.

"It was my first encounter with Dr. Tom...my first one-on-one meeting with Coach Osborne," Smith said. "He was very stern and yet very clear about what he expected from me. He told me everything he wanted me to do, so I could become a better person, a better student and a better football player – in that exact order."

Smith passed the test. He became a team captain, a first-team All-American and the second player selected in the 1988 NFL Draft – all because he grew up that snowy morning.

Somewhat remarkably, Smith remembers the experience as a positive one, mostly because Osborne was there to help him understand what he'd done wrong and to explain what he needed to do so it didn't happen again.

"I never had a father around when I was growing up," Smith said. "Coach Osborne was the first real father figure I ever had. He described what accountability is and why it mattered. He helped me learn more about life than football, and he showed me how those lessons were connected. It helped me understand that Nebraska had enough trust to give me a scholarship, and now it was up to me to show that I deserved that trust."

Smith did just that, becoming the first player in his high school to "hit it big" and pave a path for others to follow.

Support System Helped Him Grow Up

"I was so fortunate to wind up at Nebraska," Smith said. "I was a pretty good student and a pretty good kid, but I really needed to grow up. Nebraska had a support system that shows you the right things to do, and when you don't do them, they pull you over and make sure you get on the right track."

Smith developed lifetime friendships with Pete, Steve Taylor, McCathorn Clayton, Keith Jones, Broderick Thomas and others.

"We loved going into battle with each other," Smith said. "We all grew up together at Nebraska. It was the turning point of our lives. We knew how lucky we were to be attending a great university and, at the same time, have the greatest fans in college football supporting our every move. We saw dreams come true that we never envisioned for ourselves. Now that we're parents, we know how important it is to encourage instead of criticize and how much love it takes to keep kids off the street long enough to help them change."

Smith took his 7-foot, 1 ½-inch arm span – fully extended from fingertip to fingertip – to the Kansas City Chiefs from 1988-96, to the Denver Broncos from 1997-99 and to the San Diego Chargers in 2000. He played in six Pro Bowls and led the NFL with 15 sacks in 1993. In 13 NFL seasons, Smith had 105 sacks, 12 fumble recoveries, four interceptions and two touchdowns.

And oh, by the way, here's one more important stat: Neil Smith never took a day off from a snowstorm again.

Neil Smith Profile

Name: Neil O'Brien Smith

Age: 43

Residence: Lee's Summit, Mo.

Family: Sons Joshua, 26; Neland, 12; and Kellind, 3; daughters Nesha, 18; and Shayla, 9.

How Nebraska found me: They were looking at the quarterback on my high school team in New Orleans. Jack Pierce (a Nebraska assistant coach at the time) kept seeing me show up on film as a tight end, a linebacker and a defensive tackle. To be honest, I was more interested in playing basketball at a smaller school. At that time, I wasn't really all that serious about football.

Why Nebraska was a good decision: Jack changed my life when he found me, and Dr. Tom (Osborne) changed my life when I got there. He became the father figure I never had. Charlie McBride was another blessing. He pushed me to work hard and become great. I also became a product of Boyd Epley in the weight room. Lawrence Pete and I were fanatics about lifting weights. We were both Lifters of the Year. We'd even lift during commercials while we watched a movie. I gained 40 pounds at Nebraska and because of weights, I still got faster. The pros had to check their clocks when I ran a 4.49 at tryout camp. They couldn't believe my agility, but it all traced back to what we did in strength and conditioning. Nebraska was the perfect place for me. They taught me how to study, how to become a man and how to own up to responsibility.

What I'm doing now: I was a co-founder of the Kansas City Brigade, and we just shut that office down for Arena Football. I owned a restaurant for 13 years and got out of that, too, so I could manage the Derrick Thomas and Neil Smith Third-and-Long Foundation. I do a lot of speaking, mostly for charity. My mom prayed every day that we'd find our way out of the New Orleans ghetto, and we both believe that Nebraska was God's answer to our prayers. When you're blessed like we've been, you understand how important it is to give back.

Most memorable moment as a Husker: We played Michigan and Florida State in Fiesta Bowls my sophomore and senior seasons, but my most memorable moment was beating LSU in the Sugar Bowl as a junior. Everyone was there to greet me. It was homecoming for me... a dream come true. You never forget getting the chance to beat LSU in your own backyard.

Philosophy of sports: Do something because you love it, not because you think you should do it. I tell my kids to make their own name. I tell them: 'You're not me, so be you'. I tell them to enjoy the journey and once you start that journey, don't ever quit, no matter what.

Philosophy of life: Believe in your dream and throw everything you have into it. I never thought I'd end up at Nebraska or make the Pro Bowl or play on a team that won two Super Bowls. Nebraska invested in me, so I made sure that they got a good return on their investment.
